Sir Jusepe de Ribera
(Lo Spagnoletto)

1656

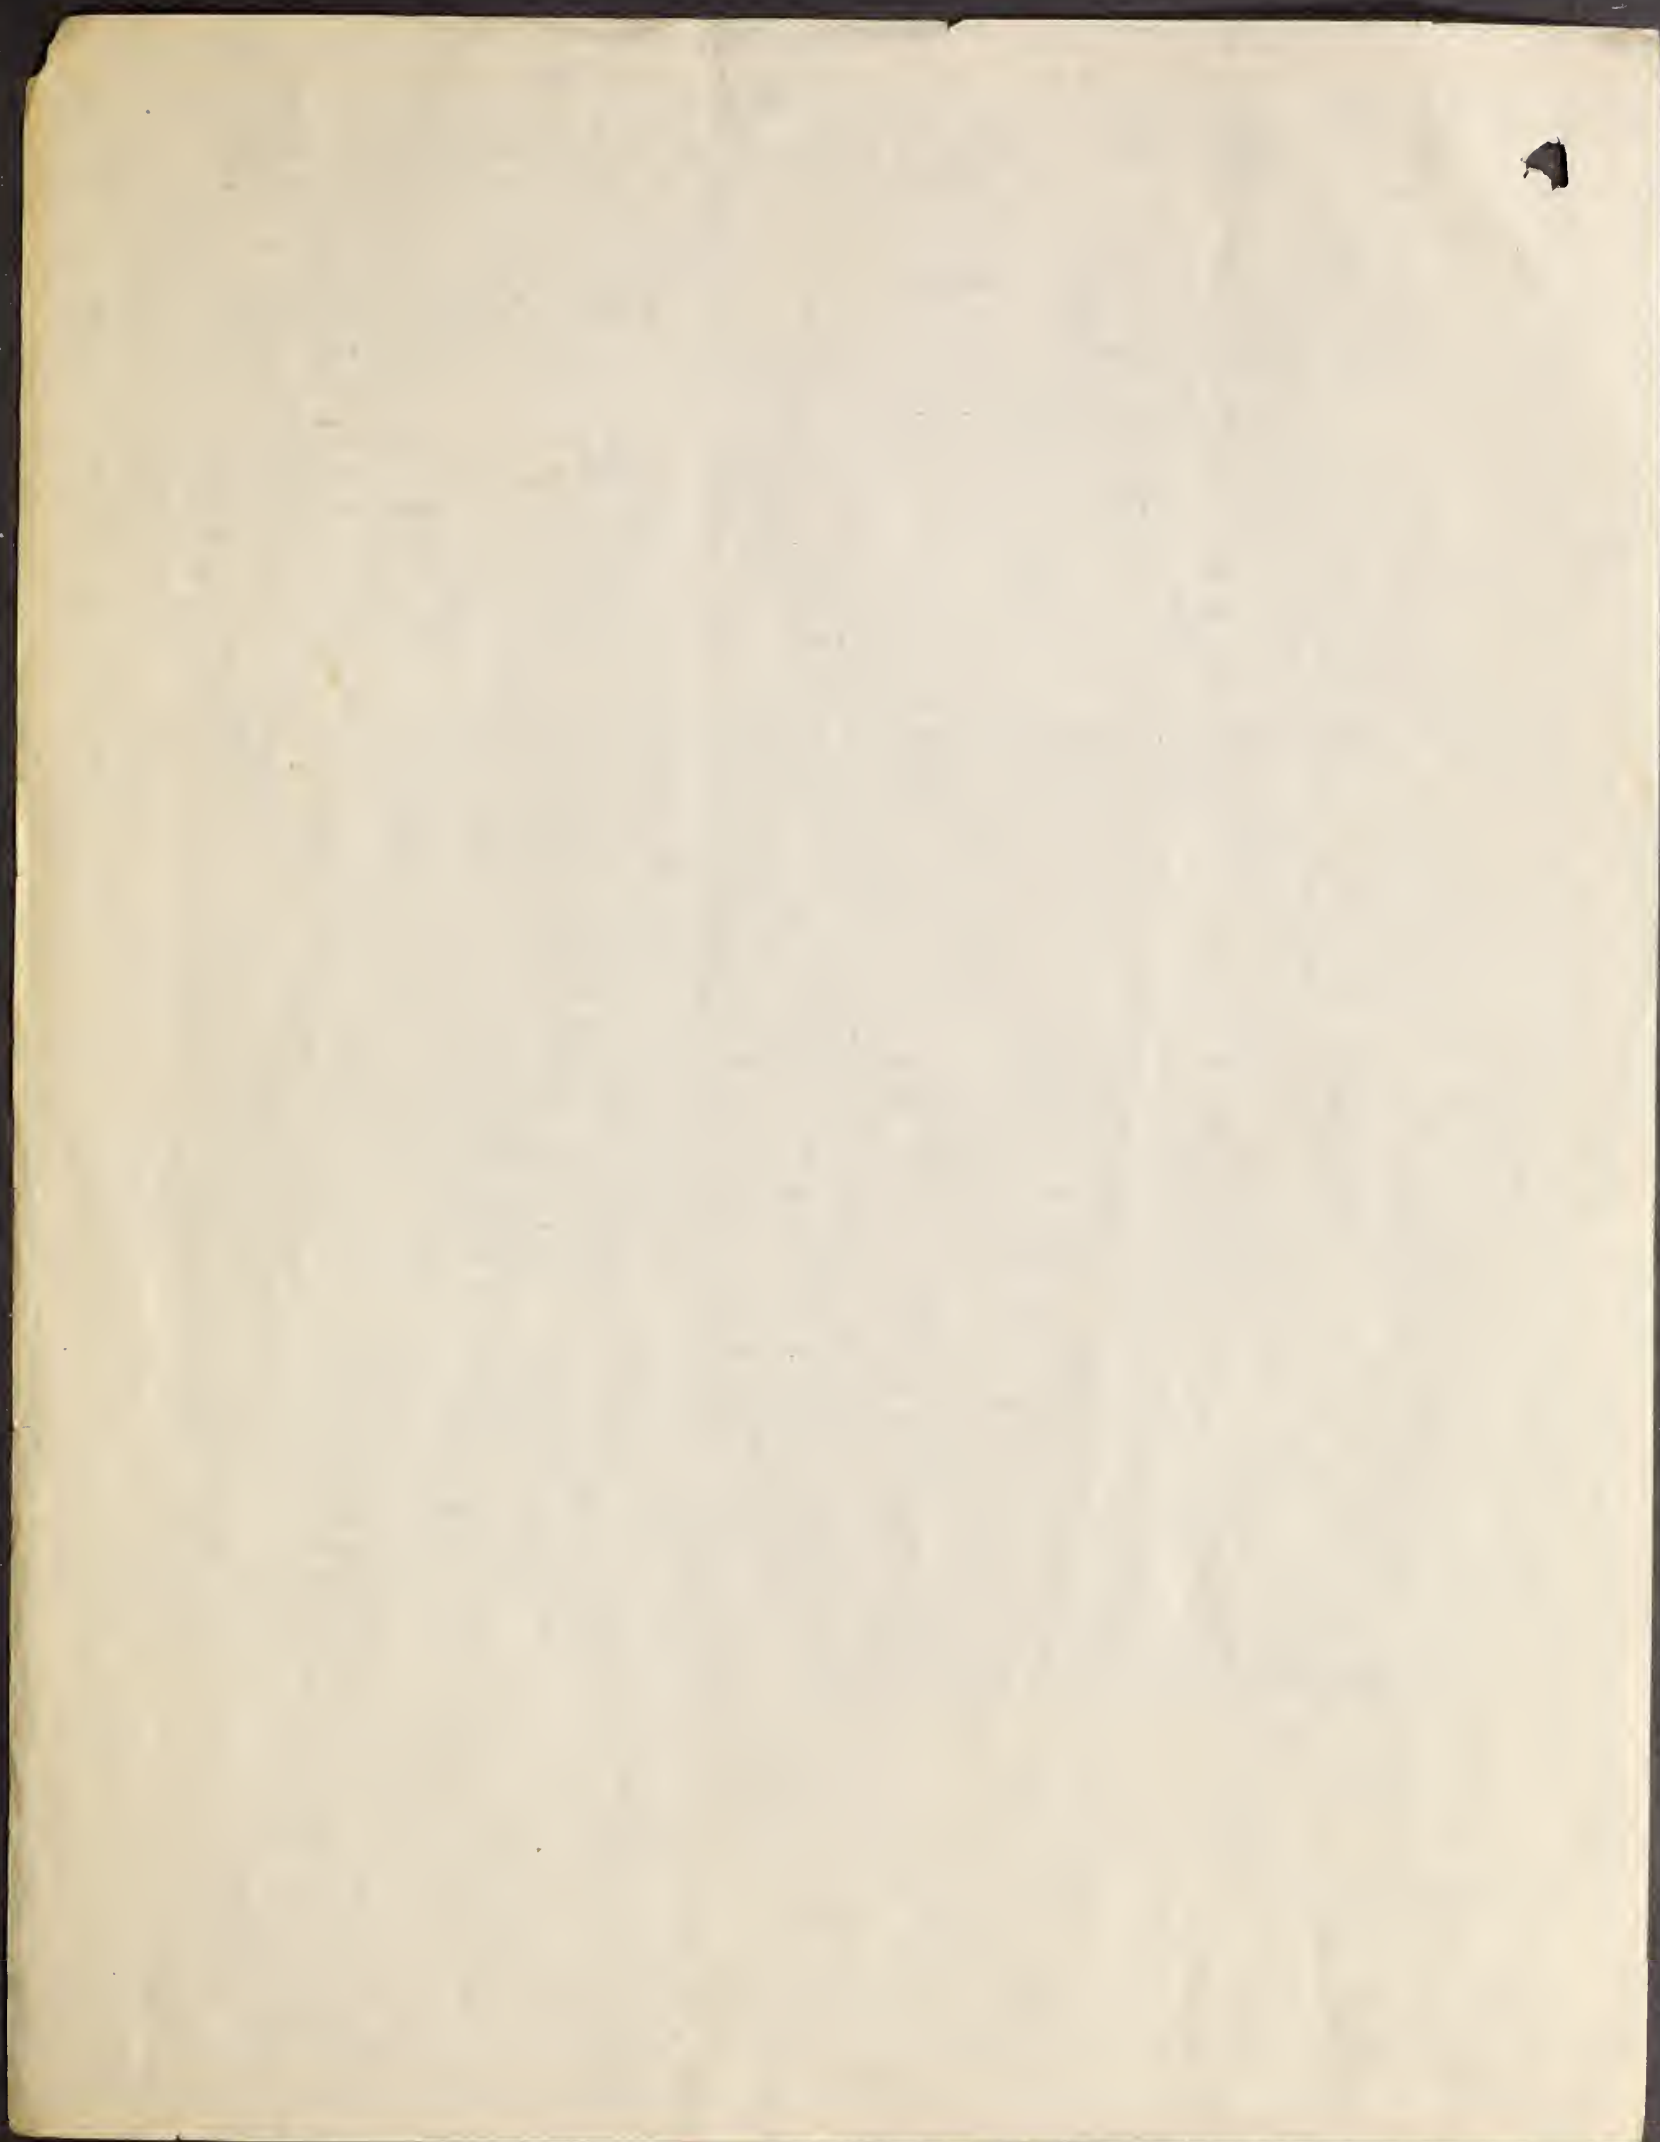

Born at Jativa, Spain, Jan. 12th. 1588 died in Naples in 1656

Valencian and Neapolitan Schools. He also painted under the name of "Lo Spagnoletto". Pupil in Valencia of Francisco Ribalta; went when quite young to Rome, and lived, while studying, on the charity of his comrades, who nick-named him Spagnoletto (little Spaniard) A cardinal took pity upon him, clothed him, and attached him to his household, but Spagnoletto soon ran away, declaring that he needed the spur of poverty to make him a good artist.

After studying under Caravaggio he went to Parma, where the grace of Correggio temporarily influenced him; but he soon returned to the style of Caravaggio, which he exaggerated. Having settled in Naples where he married the daughter of a rich picture-dealer, he was appointed Court Painter by the Spanish Viceroy, ~~whom~~ his fellow-countryman, and soon found himself possessed of wealth and honours, which enabled him to live like a grandee and entertain nobles and Princes in his palace.

Notwithstanding his supreme position he was jealous of the advancement of others, and became chief of the infamous cabals of Naples to make war, event to the knife, on painters of rival schools employed in Naples.

Ribera was made a member of the Academy of St. Luke in 1630, and was Knighted by Innocent X in 1644 Among his numerous works are; Madonna, Beggar, Louvre Paris; Dead Christ, Shepherd with a Lamb, National Gallery London; Diogenes with the Lantern (1637) St. Mary of Egypt (1641) Deliverance of Peter (1642) Martyrdom of St. Bartholomew, Martyrdom of St. Lawrence, Jacob tending Laban's Sheep, seven others, Dresden Museum; Sussanna and the Elders, Stadel Gallery, Frankfort; his portrait St. Jerome, Uffizi, Florence Mathematician, Philosopher, Palazzo Brignole, Genoa; Martyrdom of St. Bartholomew Palazzo Spínola, ib; Martyrdom of St. Sebastian, St. Jerome, Silenus, and Satyrs Naples Museum; Communion of the Apostles, and Decent from the Cross, FAMOUS PAINTING OF 17TH CENTURY MEMORIAL TO LATE H. E. FAIRFIELD.

Dr. W. H. Gatzert and Mrs. Gatzert (Sister of the Late Mr. Fairfield) Place Memorial in St. John's Anglican Church at Bath, Which is Link With Loyalists.

St. John's Anglican Church at Bath, the picturesque little edifice in a community that forms a significant link with Canada's past in the days when United Empire Loyalists found homes and hope in a new land, Today, contains one of the masterpieces of the early seventeenth century, placed there as a memorial, to the glory of God, and to the memory of Harrison Eugene Fairfield, by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Gatzert, (his sister and brother-in-law).

In tribute to the memory of a great and devoted friend, H. E. Fairfield, who passed away March 30th, 1939, Dr. Gatzert made the presentation to the church of a painting of St. Peter by Jusepe de Ribera, a leading painter of the Spanish school, who was born in 1588 and who died about 1656 after contributing important canvases to the world of art. Known as "Lo Espagnoletto" he settled in Naples, later becoming court painter and member of the Academy of St. Luke at Rome. The Louvre contains one of his paintings while some fine examples of his work are in Dresden, Antwerp and Madrid galleries.

The Painting

Depicting St. Peter in a prayerful attitude, the painting, an oil on canvas about thirty-six by forty-three in size, shows the characteristics of this master in its powerfulness and depth of feeling. One of the great colorists of Spain, Ribera is famed for the realism of his work, and the representation of St. Peter, hands clasped in prayer, his face almost agonized in its calm and intensity, is a wonderful and inspiring sight to the onlooker.

In the background of the canvas is seen the cock, and in the lower right hand, the keys, symbols of St. Peter, his denial of Christ, and his high position as Rector of the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. The painting has been one of the most prized in Dr. Gatzert's extensive collection of art treasures.

St. Peter, whose feast is observed on June 29th was the Patron of Art and was often the subject of many masterpieces. This particular painting was installed on St. Peter's day last month.

The Bath church was destroyed by fire about twenty-five years ago and on being rebuilt in 1925, a memorial window in memory of William Fairfield, an early settler and United Empire Loyalist, was presented by his family. It is on the right of the church while the Ribera painting in memory of Harrison Eugene Fairfield, is placed behind the pulpit.

Rector Expresses Appreciation.

On Sunday the rector Rev. Mr. Walker referred to the splendid gift expressing the appreciation of the parish for the painting which so enhanced the beauty of the church's interior. He also spoke in high terms of the life work of the memorial's subject, the late H. E. Fairfield. A formal dedication will be made by Bishop Lyons when he visits the parish.

Dr. and Mrs. Gatzert spend much of their time in Bath, residing in the Fairfield place, the historical home built one hundred and forty-four years ago, and one of the oldest two storey houses in Ontario. The oldest was built near Collins Bay in 1793 also by the Fairfield family. The district is steeped in United Empire Loyalist tradition and the beauty of the countryside and pleasant associations contribute to the art of gracious living.

William Fairfield.

Member of the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada, 1799-1800.

William Fairfield was one of the fifteen children of William Fairfield, Senior, who settled on lot thirty-seven in the first concession of the township of Ernesttown. He was returned to the Legislature at the bye-election in 1798 as representative for Addington and Ontario counties, and sat during the two remaining sessions, after which Addington was united with Lennox as an electoral district. The Kingston Gazette contained the following obituary notice at the time of his death:

"Died-----At his home in Ernesttown, on February 7th, 1816, in the 47th year of his age, W. Fairfield. The funeral was attended by a numerous circle of relatives, friends, and neighbours. He left a widow and seven children. The first link that was broken in a family chain of twelve brothers and three sisters, all married at years of maturity, his death was a loss to the District as well as to his family. He was one of the commissioners for expending the public money on the roads. Formerly a member of the Provincial Parliament, many years in the Commission of the Peace. As a magistrate and a man he was characterized by intelligence, impartiality, independence of mind, and liberality of sentiments."

The old Fairfield residence, built in 1796, is still standing on the bay shore at Bath.

by

Hiel Hollister.

Published in 1867.

William Fairfield was the second settler in the town of Pawlet, and as such, received a gratuity of thirty acres of land. Personally, for aught we know, he was a worthy man, but having adhered to the royal cause, his property was confiscated and himself sought refuge in Canada West, where his descendants still remain.

Dr. Simon Burton was the first settler.

Pawlet.

The town was granted to Jonathan Willard and 67 others. For many years Capt. Willard was a resident of Colchester Town and owned and operated a trading vessel between New England ports and New York. Soon after the year 1750 he removed to Albany moved to Albany, where he conducted the only English tavern in the town. After residing in Albany 8 years he removed to Saratoga, N. Y., and engaged in the lumber business. In 1760 Capt. Willard visited the New Hampshire Grants with two companions, and selected three townships. Grant was secured in 1761 for Pawlet, Danby and Mount Labor, the last named town being chartered as Harwick. It is said that Capt. Willard entered the names of his former Connecticut neighbors as grantees, and purchased many of their rights for a mug of flip or a new hat. Pawlet fell to Willard as his share of the purchase.

Simon Burton and William Fairfield came into Pawlet in 1761. Burton made the first clearing. In 1762 Capt. Willard came into the town with nine laborers and several horses, and as a result of their operations several acres of land were cleared and sowed to wheat. Meeting with heavy losses in the lumber business, Willard returned in 1764 or 65, bringing his family although he had purchased the land in Pawlet for speculation. Several of the early settlers were veterans of the French and Indian War. Settlement was slow until after Burgoyne's defeat in 1777. In 1770 there were only nine families in town.

Notes.

In 1768, the proprietor of Pawlet, Vt., granted 30 acres to William Fairfield the second settler in the town (Vermont Historical Gazetteer, Vol. III, p. 871). This does not agree with the figures of land given by William Fairfield Sr., of Ernesttown in his claim before the Loyal Commissioners in Montreal in 1787 who mentions various pieces of land bought in 1772, 1775, 1776, 1777. These were all in 50, 100 or 150 acre lots.

Furthermore even under colonial conditions in 1770, it does not seem that that a man living in South Kingston, R. I., while "out of the province," would be so out of touch with Boston that seven months after his father's death, he was still not heard from. Rev. John Fairfield of Saco who was farther away was right on the job and got his share. It seems probable, therefore, that William⁵ was the original purchaser of land in Pawlet and that the William who was a U. E. Loyalist was his son William, since, according to the note in Ont. Hist. Soc. Rec. XXIII, p. 545, the U. E. Loyalist William was the son of another William who had lived in Mass. and settled in Vermont.

Notes on Oswego.

In 1802 Archibald Fairfield commenced the forwarding business in Oswego, which proved very successful. The shipping of Oswego at this time consisted of 3 vessels; two were owned by Archibald Fairfield and one, a schooner of fifty tons, by Messrs. Sharp and Vaughn.

Fairfield "White House" Becomes UEL Shrine

BUILT BY the Fairfield family in 1792, this pioneer house will remain a landmark on the Bay of Quinte. The house has been donated to the Ontario Government by Miss Elizabeth Fairfield and Dr. W. H. Fairfield and will be the keynote of a public park to be developed as a Loyalist shrine.

Home on Highway 33
Part of 9-Acre Park

Fairfield "White House," a landmark near Kingston for 166 years, has been deeded to the Ontario Government and will be set aside as a shrine in memory of the United Empire Loyalists who settled in Ontario in the 1780's.

A nine-acre "Fairfield Park" with 1,800 feet of shoreline will be developed around the 2½-storey, 14-room clapboard building on the Bay of Quinte, nine miles west of Kingston on Highway 33.

The big white house was the government preserves for future generations a lasting testimony of those years through which the settlement and development of Ontario was achieved, with particular recognition to the spirit and valor of United Empire Loyalists.

"The Fairfield White House and properly... will be a fitting memorial to those brave patriots who laid the foundation for this great country of ours."

George H. Challies, chairman of the Ontario-St. Lawrence development commission, today announced acceptance of the donation.

He said the donation fulfills a long-expressed wish of descendants that a suitable memorial to the landing of the first United Empire Loyalists be established on the Bay of Quinte.

Among the many Loyalists who settled along the 30-mile shoreline of the Bay of Quinte was William Fairfield, a well-to-do farmer.

He built Fairfield White House in 1792-93 near Fort Frontenac, now Kingston. There have been no alterations since. Its contents include some well-kept hand-made furniture of the period.

For five generations it has been occupied by the Fairfield family, though recently it has been used only during the summer.

Dr. Fairfield, more than 80 years old, has lived in the Lehighbridge area for 37 years. He established the Lehighbridge Experimental Farm and was its superintendent for 45 years.

When built, the house was one of the largest in the Kingston district and a centre of community activity. Frequent guests in the 19th century were Sir John A. Macdonald, former Conservative prime minister, and Sir Richard Cartwright, a native of Kingston who broke with Macdonald over financial matters and joined the Liberal party.

Mr. Challies said the house will be maintained but not immediately opened to the public. It will be administered by the Ontario-St. Lawrence development commission set up in 1955 to establish and to keep parks in the Quinte-St. Lawrence area.

At present Highway 33 runs along the shore in front of Fairfield White House. Highway department plans for widening the road will require it 400 feet north of the shore to provide an area for a recreation park with an unobstructed view of the Bay of Quinte, Lake Ontario and Algonquin Island, with Kingston in the background.

Mr. Challies, in outlining plans for the park, said: "With the acceptance of this generous and patriotic donation,

Mr. Challies said the house will be maintained but not immediately opened to the public. It will be administered by the Ontario-St. Lawrence development commission set up in 1955 to establish and to keep parks in the Quinte-St. Lawrence area.

Asks Lake Port Inspection
To Block Plant Diseases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem., Minn.) says the United States agriculture department has failed to set up adequate inspection at Great Lakes ports to protect against spread of plant diseases and insects from foreign ships.

In a letter to Agriculture Secretary Benson made public today, Humphrey said there is need for immediate action to institute inspection service at the entrance of the St. Lawrence Seaway and at grain shipping points on the seaway.

Humphrey said Acting Secretary E. L. Peterson had expressed concern about the situation in a letter to him. But Humphrey said he gave no assurance any definite action was planned except assignment of one quarantine man to work with officials at all of the lake ports.

"In view of the grave danger to health and property in case of an epidemic of plant disease or infestation of plant insects, it would seem that prudence dictates that all possible safeguards should be established promptly," Humphrey wrote Benson.

He added that the costs of controlling an epidemic or infestation would be "incomparably greater than the costs of preventive measures."

Peterson had stated it is difficult to estimate the cost of establishing adequate quarantine protection in the Great Lakes area until more information is received on the volume of shipping there.

"This does not seem to be a valid reason for inaction," Humphrey said. "Local officials and businessmen are alarmed at the inadequacy of present control methods."

W. Burke
Supper Club
President

William Burke was selected as 1960 president of the Men's Supper Club of Collins Bay United Church at the annual supper-meeting of this group.

Other officials chosen for the new year were Donald Lane, vice-president; Edward Griffith, secretary and Cecil M. Peters, treasurer. All were installed by the Rev. Berry Armstrong.

A two-minute dance was observed during the evening in memory of David J. Rankin, former MLA for Frontenac-Addington and Kingston barrister, who died recently. A native of Collins Bay, he had been a valued member of the club. Several years ago he had donated the site for the church. Special tribute was paid to the late Mr. Rankin by the minister, Mr. Armstrong.

A "progressive query" was conducted by program chairman Earle Allan, in which members asked other members for information designed as a "get-to-know your neighbor" idea.

Du Pont
Continues
Scholarship

Continuation in 1960-61 of its scholarship program designed to help improve science and mathematics teaching in secondary schools was announced today by Du Pont of Canada Limited.

Under the $27,000-a-year program instituted in 1956, the company makes 15 grants of $1,800 each to the 10 participating universities, which select the scholarship winners.

Each grant may be awarded in one of three ways: as a $1,500 scholarship in teacher training for students intending to teach science or mathematics, as a $1,500 scholarship to enable a science or mathematics teacher to take a year of post-graduate work; as five summer scholarships of $300 each to give secondary school teachers additional training in science or mathematics.

For each $1,500 scholarship, the Du Pont grants $300 to the university for administration costs. If a winner of a $1,500 scholarship is a married man the company increases the grant to $2,100.

Universities participating in the plan are: Dalhousie, New Brunswick, Laval, Montreal, McGill, Toronto, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

LYNDHURST — The record high single and high triple were broken for the Lyndhurst Ladies' Five-pin Bowling League when Jean Seaman rolled 332 for one game and a total of 728 for three when the league bowled Wednesday at Albion.

The two leading teams of Dorothy Perrin and Calbie Mainse made no points, so their standings remained at 48 and 45 respectively. Marcelle Hughson's team gained seven points to finish with 41, while Vienna Kelsey's team gained seven points to finish with 36.

SAW STONE

On the Caribbean island of Barbados, where there is no timber, most houses are built of coral limestone. Moist when taken from the quarry, the stone can be sawed like wood and hardens when it dries.

GANANOQUE'S Town Council finds much favor with motor- each December when council authorizes removal of parking-ter heads. The retail merchants n take advantage of the empty ter posts, by filling them with all evergreen trees, which gives a touch of Christmas to the business block. The scene above is King street looking west from the main intersections, and a row of the Scotch Pines can be seen "marching" in single file toward Town Hall.

The lady who had captivated the heart of the seigneur of Fort Frontenac was Mlle. de Roybon d'Alloues, a member of a noble family at the court of Louis the Fourteenth. Her little-known story, pieced together from obscure references in the official French records, scanty though it is, ^{brings to light} ~~shows~~ one of the most romantic tales in the annals of New France, and depicts her as the first settler along what was later to become the Bath Road.

When ^{and where} Madeline met La Salle is not known. She may have accompanied him on his return from France to Quebec in September, 1678, or, as is surmised, she may already have ^{arrived} located in Quebec when La Salle returned to the New World armed with authority to explore the Great West. That she was one sufficient reason for his tardiness in ascending the St. Lawrence to Fort Frontenac is an honest deduction, and that she accompanied him on that journey is substantiated by her statements in official documents. Her presence at the Fort also explains La Salle's ^{subsequent} frequent and lengthy sojourns at his seigniorie that have been hitherto so difficult to understand. It was doubtless on her account that he made that memorable three months journey on foot from the headwaters of the Mississippi to the fort by the cool, gray waters of the St. Lawrence. In any event, Mlle d'Alloues resided on La Salle's seigniorie from 1678 to 1687, except for a brief journey ~~with La Salle~~ ~~with~~ him to Quebec when he left New France never to return.

Mlle. d'Alloues was thirty two years of age when she came to Fort Frontenac.

In spite of the fact that much has been written about La Salle, the first white landowner in Ontario, both by his contemporaries and by modern writers, his actions in the latter part of his ^{brief} career remain an enigma. The story of his life up to his departure for France in the autumn of 1677, after he had rebuilt Fort Frontenac and founded a village beside it, while lacking in certain details, gives us a clear picture of the man ^{at the same time} ^{determined} of ^{good education} pleasing personality, ambitious, direct in his approach to a problem, ~~well educated~~ — a born leader of men.

Make Their Home Fairfield House

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Gutzeit Arrive from Toronto

BATH, April 27—Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Gutzeit of Toronto, arrived in the village Thursday to make their future home at the William Fairfield, Jr., homestead, erected in 1796, one of the historic houses of this village. Dr. Gutzeit is organist and choir leader of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and recently of Rosedale United Church, Toronto. He is a noted musician and composer.

Mrs. Gutzeit is a great granddaughter of the late William Fairfield, Jr., U.E.L., and this will be the first time in many years that a member of the family has been in permanent occupancy of the home. Dr. Gutzeit has recently donated a valuable oil painting of St. Peter to St. John's Church, Bath, continuing a support and interest in this church begun by William Fairfield, Jr., one of the original founders of St. John's.

The report predicted contin-

Southeast Asia war and disclosed some of the unusual forms U.S. assistance takes.

For instance, the report said, the Central Intelligence Agency pays combat flight bonuses to Laotian pilots not to fly combat missions.

The pay results from the re-

Also, the U.S. military has

U.S. estimates of Cambodia's effective fighting force vary from 150,000 to 275,000, the reno greater mystery than the size of the Cambodian govern-

Last descendant of UEL family dies

The last direct descendant of the United Empire Loyalist Fairfield family died Friday, just over one month after the death of her sister.

Louise Alice Fairfield, daughter of the late James Fairfield and Elizabeth Sills, was the great-great granddaughter of William Fairfield, who settled nine miles west of Kingston in 1793.

Miss Fairfield, as well as her sister Mabel Amey Fairfield, died of a stroke. The funeral was to be conducted today with interment at Catawqui Cemetery.

Miss Fairfield is survived by a cousin, Mrs. Marjorie McCaw of Lindsay, and a "close cousin", Mrs. Beatrice Fairfield, who lives in North Bay.

Louise Fairfield spent her whole life in the area, and had a lifelong interest in local history. Every year, with her sister, she held "open house" for the annual tour of the Kingston Historical Society.

The two sisters lived in the ancestral home, which is often referred to as the "white house", since 1946.

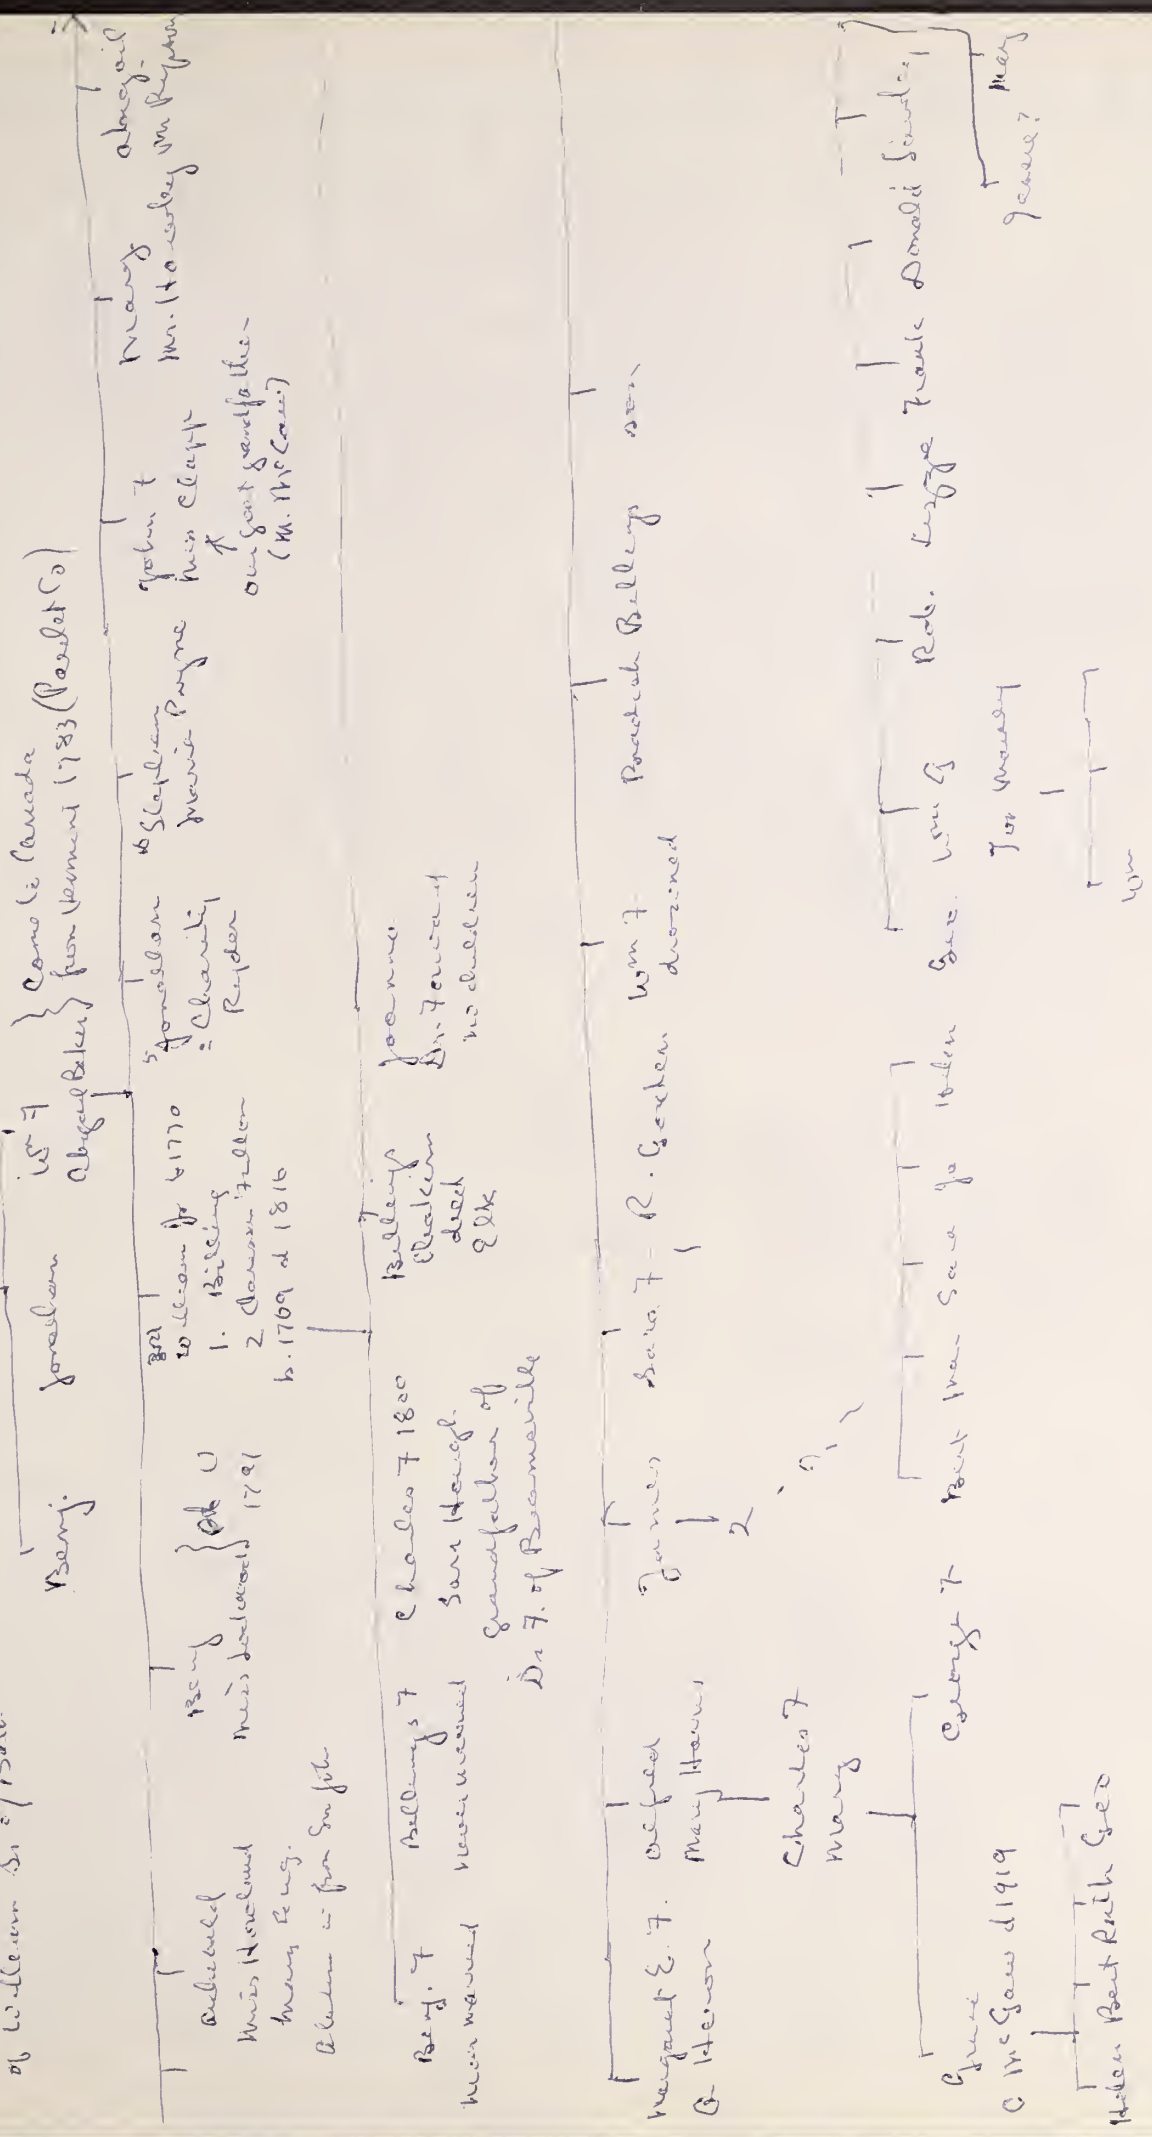

The ancestral home was given to the Ontario Government, but under the terms of the gift, the Fairfield sisters were to reside there as long as they lived.

MRS. VICTORIA FAIRFIELD

Mrs. Victoria E. Preston Fairfield died peacefully on Sunday in her 95th year. She was the wife of the late Thomas Dorland Fairfield and was born in Nauvers, Durham County, in 1845, of Scotch-Irish parents. She was educated in local schools and in Toronto where she obtained a teacher's certificate in the then new Normal School, a certificate never used as she married Thomas Dorland Fairfield and lived the first few years of her married life in the old Fairfield homestead on the Bath Road.

In the early 70's she went with her husband to Cleveland and later to the Pennsylvania oil regions where Mr. Fairfield was in business and where three of her six children were born. Both there and later in Colorado, where the family spent about 15 years, Mrs. Fairfield was earnest and tireless in church and neighborhood work, a devout Christian and devoted wife, a loving and unselfish mother.

On retiring Mr. Fairfield returned with his family to their ancestral home and there for nearly 30 years Mrs. Fairfield has lived where she began her married life and where she passed away.

She is survived by one son, William Fairfield of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lethbridge, Alta., and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Poland of Acton, Mass., and Alice at home.

The funeral will be held from her late home at 2 p.m. August 1 to Cataraqui Cemetery.

Dear Dr Burleigh,

Do you have the address of the woman who thought The Fairfield daughter who married Benj. Brown had a daughter who married a Coleman? I think I can give her the answer on that; if you send me her address, should you locate it. The reason you could not help her is that it was not Elizabeth, it was her older sister, Joanna, who married first an Abel Stowell, whose daughter Joanna married, ^{then} 1st ^{was} Willie ^{and} for her 2nd husband, Benj Brown, ^{then} Sabra, Joanna

I am getting you the Dary material that a from her.

Deaths And Funerals

MAJOR G. H. S. CAMPBELL

Major George H. S. Campbell died Nov. 1 in Kingston, at his home at 107 Logan street.

He was born at Cole Lake, Ont., in 1888, the son of John E. and Mary Fairfield Campbell. He went overseas in the First World War with the 146th Battalion, CEF, later transferring to the Royal Flying Corps and he served in England and France.

He worked as session clerk in the House of Commons before the war. He went to the Canadian National Railways in 1920, and retired in 1953 as conductor on the Saskatoon division.

His retiring years were spent in much yearly travelling to Halifax, Florida, California and Saskatoon.

Funeral service was held from his residence to Verona United Church. Rev. C. B. Grassie and Rev. Ronald Smeaton officiated. Interment was in the family plot at Piccadilly cemetery.

Pall-bearers were M. Carscalen, Harold Fuller, W. John Campbell, H. G. Campbell, A. J. Reid and Donald J. York.

This secret is not in construc-producing the U-235, which be-

Ironically, this process was

Boy Buried Same Day, Meningococemia Strikes at Family

All Family Quarantined When Fever Strikes

By DON DELAPLANTE
Special to The Globe and Mail

Sturgeon Falls, April 4.—The body of 3-year-old Donald Fairfield was buried immediately today by order of the Ontario Department of Health after the disease which attacked him and a 7-year-old sister was diagnosed by physicians at the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children as meningococemia.

The disease, known sometimes as spotted fever, claimed the life of Donald Fairfield as he was being taken by auto to Toronto by his father Norman and Douglas Brown, a neighbor. He died in the car near Burks Falls, 7 miles south of here Monday night.

Fairfield drove back to Sturgeon Falls with the boy's body to discover a daughter Peggy, 7, had symptoms of the same disease, which Sturgeon Falls Hospital officials had not been successful in diagnosing.

Fairfield and Dr. P. M. Young drove at breakneck speed with Peggy to Toronto, arriving there at 3 a.m. The girl is in serious condition.

Fairfield is staying in Toronto with friends. His wife Dorothy and three other children Barbara, 8, David, 4, and Susan, 18 months, were quarantined.

Dr. Rene Cholette, medical officer of health, said he had not seen a case in practice or at medical school. He was not called to treat the sick children.

Donald, a plump, strong child, had been in good health and developed a fever Sunday. By morning spots on his hands and face had become a bluish black and a large burn on one of his arms had acquired the same color.

He was taken to the hospital late Monday and placed under observation. Officials then advised his father to rush him to Toronto. He died in the car an hour and a half later.

Hospital officials said Peggy, who was rushed to Toronto by her father, was showing some improvement. She was still seriously ill.

Meningococemia, according to Toronto specialists, is not necessarily a fatal illness, though effective treatment depends on early diagnosis and treatment. During 25 years, it was estimated by Dr. Nelles Silverthorne, about 200 cases had been treated at the Hospital for Sick Children. Dr. Silverthorne is one of Canada's leading authorities on this and allied diseases, and has written extensively on diagnostic and treatment methods.

"There isn't the slightest reason to expect an epidemic," said Dr. Silverthorne. "The last serious epidemic of record was in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1905. Today, with antibiotics and sulfa drugs, any threat can be nipped quickly and effectively."

"While not common, it is not an unknown illness," he added. "Children respond quickly to treatment if it is started promptly. My last case came into hospital in apparently serious condition, 48 hours later the little fellow was home, perfectly well. If treatment is delayed it prolongs recovery or even jeopardizes successful treatment."

Dr. Silverthorne said the outbreak of meningococemia in Sturgeon Falls was an extremely rare incident. It was known as the fulminating type, extremely fatal unless detected almost immediately. But this type was itself very rare.

"The death rate prior to introduction of the sulfa and antibiotics was about 30 per cent," he said. "Now it is about 1 per cent one death in 100 cases. However, when a very virulent type of bacteria strikes, it more seriously affects very young children because they have not developed an immunity to it."

"It is estimated that 20 to 40 per cent of the population have developed such immunity because of mild attacks which were never recognized. In my investigations, I found up to 40 per cent of groups were of such a type, possibly healthy carriers of the infection."

When asked how parents could recognize the disease, Dr. Silverthorne said very few could know it. Any high fever in a child should be investigated promptly by a doctor, he said. If meningococemia was present, a doctor would know it. But delay would handicap treatment.

Peggy, 7, stayed home from school last week because of an eye inflammation. Dr. Cholette said no epidemic is feared.

The little girl acquired a fever Monday and blue spots began to appear Tuesday. She was brought to hospital in the evening.

"We couldn't understand what was happening. We don't know how the children got the germ," said Mrs. Fairfield.

David, 4, also had a burn on his arm.

The Fairfields came a year ago from Oakville. Previously they lived in Montreal and Vancouver. Mrs. Fairfield is a British war bride. She was married to her husband when he was overseas in the RCAF.

Fairfield was almost 48 hours without sleep when he arrived in Toronto with Peggy. Near collapse, he was unable to find a hotel room. He finally slept at a friend's home.

"We were up almost all Sunday night with Donald, after spending a very happy Easter Day," Fairfield said.

The parents watched in horror as the unidentified spots which had killed Donald began to appear on Peggy. They spread slowly like parts of a bruise.

Fairfield said they had been happy in Sturgeon Falls, where he works in the hardboard mill of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company.

"It was a fine small town for us till yesterday," he declared.

He wanted to thank neighbors and townspeople. The Kiwanis Club is paying for the trip with Donald and that with Peggy.

Quarantine period for the disease will be 10 days, in which the Fairfields will receive several penicillin injections. None of the three children here has shown any symptoms of the disease.

Mrs. J. A. Stewart

Widow of MP Donated Park, Site for School

Perth, April 4.—After a lengthy illness, Mrs. Jessie M. Stewart, 87, widow of John Alexander Stewart, former Lanark County MP, and Railways Minister in the Meighen Government, died at her home here this afternoon.

The former Jessie Mabel Henderson, she was born in Perth.

She was district commissioner in the Canadian Girl Guides, a member of the Dominion Council, honorary secretary of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare, and vice-chairman of the Shernfold Home for Underprivileged Children in Ottawa.

She was a member of St. James Church of Canada, which benefited by her gifts.

For several years she was a director of the IODE of which she was elected national president in 1928.

She was honorary president of the Perth Public Museum Inc. and honorary life director of the Great War Memorial Hospital in Perth, and honorary president of the Women's Hospital Aid Association.

In February, 1947, Mrs. Stewart presented to the town of Perth the property known as the John A. Stewart Memorial Park.

In transferring the park to the town, she provided a generous trust fund, the income from which is to be used in perpetuity to assist in the upkeep and maintenance of the property.

In October, 1947, Mrs. Stewart presented to the Perth Board of Education all the acres on Wilson St. W. and on this site the new Stewart Public School was erected and opened in September, 1952.

Forest Fires May Be Worse In Sudbury Area

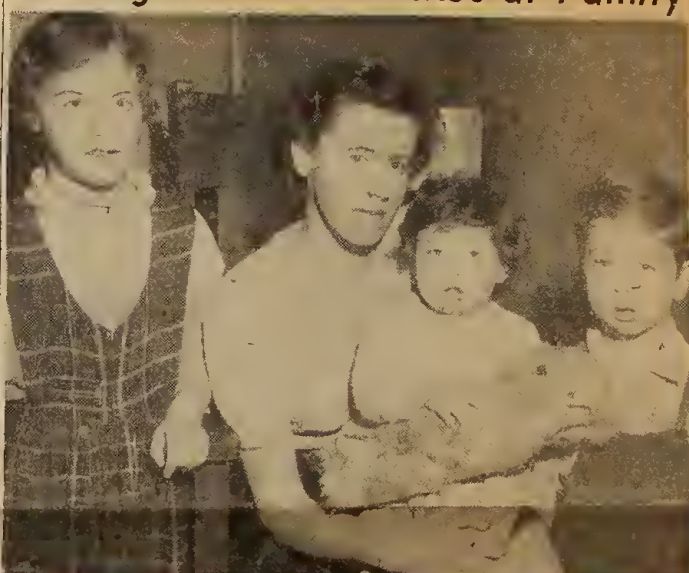

Sudbury, April 4. (CP)—Ontario Lands and Forests Department officials say they expect forest fires as bad or worse than last year in the Sudbury, Chapleau and Gogama areas this summer.

Department officials, meeting forest products operators yesterday, said four new helicopters will be used to fight forest fires this year.

Keith Acheson, regional forester, said the Sudbury district had the highest toll of fires along railways of any section of the province in 1955.

He suggested many of the fires were due to poor inspection methods by the railways, which he said, permitted locomotives to go without adequate fire screens and without installations to prevent dropping of live coals. Seventeen fires along the Sudbury-Sault Ste. Marie line partially destroyed the Nairn forest sanctuary last year.

J. E. Barnes, fire protection officer at Sudbury, recommended that the Lands and Forest Department be given authority to inspect all steam locomotives to see that proper screens are in

Manpower Lacking

Wages, Short Week Hit Cheese Industry

Belleville, April 4. — The 40-hour week has Canada's Cheddar industry in a box.

The short work week and high wages paid by industry and contractors are making it almost impossible for cheesemakers to retain helpers, Hector Arnold of Campbellford, president of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board, said here yesterday. He addressed the annual spring conference of the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association.

Mr. Arnold said low cheese prices, on one hand, and high wages, on the other, were to blame for a manpower shortage in the cheese industry. He forecast a price increase for Cheddar in order to pay makers a decent wage and to attract younger men into the trade.

This double-barrelled pressure, Mr. Arnold's view, is one of the reasons responsible for the decline in the number of producing factories in Ontario to 200, with production last year below 80,000,000 pounds for the first time in many years.

It was also felt that in trying to match the 40-hour work week makers were speeding up the cheese making process with the result that defects were appearing in the cheese.

D. M. Beattie of the products grading and inspection services, Ottawa, said the industry was facing a revolution in higher efficiency in production being an immediate necessity. Research is also needed to determine new uses.

He suggested that one way to realize a greater income from cheese was to produce with a view to longer storage, so that the premium on aged cheese could be obtained.

Mr. Beattie also noted that there were 31,500,000 pounds of cheese in storage in Canada now, a decline of 5,000,000 pounds since the same time last year.

Four Cottages Burn at Beach

Crystal Beach, April 4. (Star)—Four summer cottages burned in a fire of unknown origin today at this Lake Huron resort. Loss was estimated at $25,000.

Fire started in one of the houses—all of them at the time—within minutes three more were destroyed. The fire was contained by two fire trucks.

Target Offered By Bending Clerk Said Irresistible

Windsor, April 4. (CP)—Counsel for a youth charged with shooting at a supermarket attendant admitted the target was irresistible.

Richard charged with air pistol picked up the target.

Periodically appeals are made for support in alleviating some of the certain tariff duties in the deplorable Trade Agreements Act of 1935. Civic Vote Extension

I write on behalf of the Ward 10 South Halcyon Association in agreement with the suggestion of the various organizations that the municipal vote be extended to all residents of Toronto, not only to roomers but to all who pay his property tax out of their pocket.

Sussan, 18 months; David, 4.

With and Federal franchise in Provincial and Municipalities are granted. This is not complete as we understand the situation.

Justice in Indonesia

We read with interest Dorothy Thompson's article on the trial of Dutch military Missions in Indonesia. Miss Thompson pointed out that the Dutch military Missions in Indonesia are not only a firm tradition but also a firm tradition.

It was G. H. N. H. Jungschlaeger who used poor judgment and makes a life do we have a person who makes a mistake of some kind and passes it on to him? The right to take but should a woman driver be in the house of Commons? Our remark is the inevitable result of following the English driver. I might say, "A woman or some such remark." The point we were making was that the Dutch military Missions in Indonesia are not only a firm tradition but also a firm tradition.

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS
"T" District
Richardson Building
KINGSTON, Ontario

Dear Sir:

Service records show that you were a prisoner of war for a period during World War II. Experience has shown that, possibly because of the hardships associated with internment, a number of ex-prisoners of war have developed disease of the lungs. This Department, in conjunction with other health organizations, is most anxious to conduct periodic examinations to detect the earliest signs of any disease. The examinations must be thorough as the earliest signs are not usually noted by the patient.

It is proposed, with your co-operation, to examine you at the end of six months following demobilization and again six months later, provided that the first examination does not indicate that more frequent examinations are advisable. As it is now about six months since your demobilization, this office proposes to conduct this medical examination at either Kingston or Peterboro, at which points the Department of Veterans' Affairs maintains adequate facilities for this purpose.

Since this is a matter of utmost importance to you, it is requested that you complete the attached form letter and return it to this office without delay, indicating the earliest and most convenient date on which you will be prepared to submit to this examination. At the same time please indicate your preference as to the place of examination, taking into consideration transportation facilities and time lost in transit.

On the receipt of your reply, this office will forward to you, unless otherwise indicated, a transportation warrant covering your bus or railway fare to and from the place of examination, as well as letter which you will relinquish to the examining doctor at the time of examination.

You will appreciate that your co-operation is a matter of great importance to yourself and to your associations in preventing the spread of preventable disease.

Yours sincerely,

F.L. Reid, M.D.
Medical Assistant to the District Administrator.

Dear Dr Burleigh:-

I know you are expecting to receive the story of what I remember of life in Bath up to the time of our removal to Minnesota in 1882, but -not yet;- altho my notes have been written of various incidents, but the opportunity to assemble them in one article has not presented itself yet. However, I am hoping to do it before leaving the last of May for the east. So many places I wanted to see last August were closed, that this trip I am planning to go to the eastern states first, and stop in Canada on the return trip. Ever since returning last October my days have been filled with various things and have passed so quickly that only 1/3 of the plans I made for doing so many things this past winter have been accomplished. I admit there was enough work laid out to fill the time of 3 able-bodied and able-minded persons and which I thought I was equal to, and perhaps could have done more had certain business matters ~~had~~ not claimed much attention. We also had company and have company now. We went to Santa Barbara 3 times, to San Diego, ^{once} and went to the San Francisco Fair and other points in the Northern part of the state. Occasionally, it was necessary to stop and take some long breaths, but I'm still going strong. "

I have had no news of the Historical Society, and hope it still is in existence. Few people ~~do not~~ realize that an historical society requires much time, patience, perseverance and persistent effort in order to make a start and to keep it going. There is always the faithful few, but they need the help of the many. It may stimulate interest to broaden your scope and have a Lennox and Addington Museum located at Bath which will include Natural History and other things of interest that are seen in museums all over the country. Some people say "all museums are alike," but that is not so, for I have visited museums in many cities and small towns and have found something different and interesting in every one. I have given articles to many museums and if I thought anything in the natural history line would be acceptable I could bring shells &c with me for a starter- of course what I have left is not so much, but if every one would do likewise there would soon be a museum. If the people in the U.S. are interested enough in their communities to demand improvements from the government, the Canadians should be able to do likewise, but they must assure the government of their interest and their willingness to keep the project alive. If I get started writing on what could be done I could fill a book. The whole county needs to be taken on a sight-seeing tour to see how things are done in other places. My sister gave me photos of old Bath residents that were in my mother's album, and which have been put aside for the Bath society. The album is very heavy and I do not know if I can manage to bring it with my other baggage.

Since beginning this letter I have received a telegram from Mrs Sundberg of San Diego (formerly Birdie Fairfield of Bath) that her husband - (81) years passed away last night at 11 o'clock. I will probably go to San Diego on Saturday. A week before their 50th anniversary on April, 25, he had a very severe heart attack, but was able to come downstairs at 5 p.m. on that day. She looked very tired and as he was a semi-invalid for years she will feel the re-action. We were in San Diego - Apr 22 & 23

I've had so many interruptions since beginning this letter that I am off on my grammar but have not time to re-write it and had to stop to write 3 short hurried letters - I have a small gavel and if you have none for your society - shall I bring it? Did you receive the church postals - so many fine churches in Hollywood ^{and} Los A. but no cards of them except the Catholic Cathedral, Missions ^{and} a country church Hoping to hear from you before I leave ^{and} with kind regards to your wife ^{and} yourself

I am - Very Sincerely Yours

Marie E. Lacey

(Mrs John Lacey)

Dear Mrs. S.

I am sorry that you had to remind me to return the page to Mr. Thibodo. I had intended to place it safely in your hands long ago. ~~but~~ Please accept my apologies.

~~As you may have suspected, I was fascinated by the story and wished to imprint the story on my mind in case I could use it in the history of the White House which I wanted to occupy a place in my legends of the Bath Road, should I ever succeed in completing them.~~

As you may have suspected, I wished to include ^{the story of this incident} it in the legends of the Bath Road, should I ever succeed in completing them. Naturally, the White House could not be omitted. It has become a legend in itself and any tale which would enhance its glory is worthy of recording.

There are, however, some discrepancies in the story. For instance, I wonder if it were not your house where Thibodo was concealed, and not the White House. ^{in this regard} I wish to offer the following information. ~~and pro & con, which may lead to a further review of this~~ hoping that my criticism may lead to further investigation of this interesting story.

1. Your statement that he was hidden by Wm Fairfield, U.E., is physically impossible for the following reasons:

A. ~~the~~ The concealment of Mr. Thibodo occurred during the Rebellion of 1837-38. ^{that event} Wm Fairfield, U.E., died in 1812, twenty-five years before ^{the event}. His son, Stephen, who inherited the White Ho., died in 1820, ^{17 years before Mr. Thibodo was captured}. ~~At the time of the Rebellion Herman, aged 55, with his wife and seven children, dwelt in the White House. Was it Herman who hid the hunted? I doubt it.~~

B. Did this event occurred in your house? ~~It sounds more logical~~ Here again, Wm F. J. U.E., died in 1816, more than twenty years before Thibodo ~~was captured~~ became a hunted man

Dear Mrs. Gutzert. A dear old friend of mine Miss Isabel Whitelaw of Woodstock Ont. recently sent me a clipping from a newspaper about your plans of raising funds for St.
John's church. I was much interested from the fact that my father's mother was Sarah Fairfield before she married our grand father Wm. Thos. Aishlar a young Dr. from England who lived in Bath many years and practised there.

They had 4 daughters & 4 sons one of them being my father Samuel Clark Aishlar, who was married to mother in St. John's church Bath about 1812 - mother was the daughter of Chas. Crpler son of Col. Crpler of Crpler Farm fame. When father died in Japan he was buried in St. John's cemetery.

So you can see how this article brought back many memories, some from here.
For I was quite small when father died.
We are quite a scattered family now, only 3 of us left the sister I lived with "Sarah M. Arthur" for over 20 years and mother & an older one living in Rochester. Am enclosing a small cheque

Parish Register of Kingston, Upper Canada, 1785-1811.

Sebarah Ann, daughter of Archibald and Mary Fairfield was baptized June 7, 1795.
Sponsors were: Dougall Gray, Sebarah Fairfield, Jane Howland.

Archibald Fairfield was a yeoman from the State of New York. He was allowed his claim for the West half of Lot 6, Concession 1, in Ernesttown in 1797 (D. W. Smith Papers, Vol. B 10). Mr. Robertson gives in the work so often quoted a picture of the Fairfield homestead. He possibly is the man referred to in the Cartwright Letter Book Shortt Collection) in correspondence with the Hon. John McGill, Commissary-General, and with the firm of J. & A. McGill of Montreal, in 1799 and 1801, though in the latter year there is also a letter to Messrs. B. Fairfield & Co., who did business in Ernesttown.

On the 14th of August, 1795, a man of the same name, if not he himself, petitioned for a water lot ~~ix~~ at Kingston. This having been previously granted to Messrs. Seymour & Hunter, merchants, the petition was referred to the Surveyor-General for report (U. C. Land and State Book A. p.305.).

In 1853 he removed to Kingston, but returned to Picton the following year and carried on the business of general merchant, produce dealer and ship builder until 1867. In 1868 he was appointed Inspector of Prisons, Asylums and Public Charities of the Province of Ontario. He resigned in 1882, and since that time has been managing director of Toronto General Trusts Company, a company which he organized.

The life of Bro. John Dean.

John Dean was born in 1791 in the town of Windsor, Vermont, and entered the Craft when eighteen years of age. He was descended from English parents, who gave him an excellent education, and in later years proved himself a capital penman and a ready correspondent. His daughter, Miss Maria Dean, states that he came to Canada when quite young and resided on Main street in Ernesttown (now Bath), afterwards Bath, on the Bay of Quinte, where he engaged in business as a merchant and subsequently became postmaster. His wife was a daughter of Bro. Stephen Fairfield, a brother of Bro. Herman Fairfield, who lived for years at Collins' Bay on the Bay of Quinte, between Kingston and Bath. The Deans had three children, a daughter, Maria Dean, who at present resides at Sydenham, near Kingston, and two sons, Stephen and James, both of whom are dead.

In personal appearance Bro. Dean was tall, stooping slightly when he walked, fair in face and quite bald. He was passionately fond of music and employed his spare time in teaching a singing class. He conducted the choir of the Anglican church at Bath, and when the Craft on St. John's day visited the church and received the benefit of a service, he took particular pride in furnishing exceptionally good music.

The first Masonic record of Bro. Dean is found in the minutes of lodge, No. 13, at Ernesttown, which he attended first on ~~November~~ 9th November, 1817. He was again present on the 18th February, 1818, on the 18th March, when he acted on a committee, and on the 15th April he is entered as "Acting Secretary." The word "sojourner" placed after his name shows that he was not a member. On the 17th June, 1818, he affiliated with the lodge and at the same meeting was elected W. M.

He took an active part in the formation of the first unified Grand Lodge in Upper Canada, and drafted its constitution or "Articles of Association." In February, 1820, he was elected secretary of the Kingston Convention, and on 29th August, 1822, was appointed Provincial Grand Secretary. He held this office until the close of the second Provincial Grand Lodge in 1828-30. He lived in Toronto in the early forties in a house on Front street east of York Street. The exact place is not known.

As a business man he was not over successful, and from comparative affluence, he was compelled to go out of business and accept a position at a salary of £ 200 currency per year, in the Crown Lands department under the old government of Canada in 1839-40-41. He filled this position in Toronto and while in that city was a member of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 1, from which he withdrew on the 29th May, 1841, as he was about to leave the city. At the union of the provinces in 1841 he was removed to Kingston with his office and thence to Montreal, which was at that time the seat of government.

Bro. Dean suffered from bronchitis and died at his residence in St. Denis street, above St. Catherine street, in a house that was burned in the fire of 1849, in that city on the 25th May, 1847, in the fifth-seventh year of his age, after an illness of four months. He was buried in the Dorchester and Papineau Road cemetery known as the Protestant burying-ground, not with Masonic honors, although a large number of his Masonic friends attended in a body. His daughter, Maria Dean, wrote in 1894 in reference to her father's death and burial, saying:- "~~that~~ I remember hearing Mr. Turquand and other gentlemen regretting that my father had not requested it"--that is the Craft service.

The "record of interments in the Dorchester and Papineau Road Burial Ground from 1845 to 1848" contains the following entry:-

"1847, Single Grave, old Ground, Paid 30/-. May. John Dean, Clerk, died 25th, aged 57 years, and buried 25th by the Rev. Mr. Wilkes."

At the time of his death he was Chief Clerk and Accountant in the Crown Lands Office.

(Note: Records of Bath Anglican Cemetery gives the following:

Jane Dean, aged 32, 1832. (Presumably nee Fairfield, his wife.)

William Fairfield, Jr., was a member of the second Upper Canada Legislature for Addington and Ontario Counties. He was elected in 1799 following Christopher Robinson, and sat during the following two sessions till 1801. He was a Magistrate many years. He and his younger brother, Stephen, were Supply Officers for the British Army in this district for years. They served in that capacity during the stirring times of the American War of 1812-15, and often had a difficult task to perform to keep all the army supplied. A tradition is told that once the available Canadian supply was about exhausted, and the army must have good food to fight the Yankees. There seemed to be a good supply available on the south side of the St. Lawrence, but it was in the enemy's country. Gen. Benjamin Brown who had command of a lot of American soldiers along the frontier, near Ogdensburgh, had married Clara Fairfield, and was therefore a brother-in-law of our Supply Officers. Tradition has it that when Yankee dealers had some cattle they were willing to pass over and sell, it was found convenient to move the American soldiers a little further away and the animals could be driven across the ice quite unknown to them, of course. The British would thus get more food, and the Americans more British money, the exchange being a help to both parties immediately concerned. Prices were good, as one letter dated 1814, from William Fairfield to Stephen Fairfield, in which William said that he had employed "Black John" to purchase two pairs of oxen from Nathan Brown which could be had at $200 a pair, the money to be paid in species.

During those war days English money was very plentiful in this country and nearly everything the farmer had to sell brought ready money and high prices, something unknown before this time.

Fairfield White House

by
A. M. Going

Relates the well-known story of the house. In part, it refers to the slaves, as thus:

"For a few years after coming to Canada, Mr. Fairfield, with his six sons and six daughters and the negro slaves, who followed their beloved master into exile."

"In the chimney corner sat an old negro crippled with rheumatism, but too dear a friend of the family to leave in the Vermont home."

A pathetic story is told of the devotion of Mr. Fairfield's negroes to the family they had willingly accompanied to the north. Matt, a negro, who must have come to Canada with them when a child, walked all the way to Toronto in the depths of winter to warn Harmon Fairfield, a grandson of William Fairfield, of a supposed plot to take the property from him. Poor Matt, old by this time, arrived frost-bitten, bleeding feet where Mrs. Fairfield and her son were living, but she cared little — she had saved the family.

Today the oak beams form the ceiling of the great kitchen above which the negro quarters, now bedrooms and modern bathrooms. "

A description of the house, with this item in part:

"Long ago, the Fairfields have been told, this (but the old nursery at the back of the house remains unchanged) back wing housed the first negroes brought from Vermont, and later two slaves who were part of the marriage portion of Maria Bruns, an American bride of the time between the wars, the great-grandmother of the present chateaux of the house."

Now that we have the Fairfield family residing in the Fairfield White House, let's turn to the subject of the Fairfield Slaves. As you may have discovered, it is stated, time after time, that as many as twenty negro slaves belonged to this family as late as the 1825's.

As I have had my doubts regarding these slaves, I proceeded to investigate the subject, and I am able to affirm that I have never found any documentary evidence that slaves resided here.

In spite of the statement that slaves accompanied this family as they departed from Vermont to Canada in 1778-79, and finally to Upper Canada in 1784. A careful examination of the Haldimand Papers in the Dominion Archives in Ottawa supplies information of all Loyalists. Determination and patience, as well as paper and pen, is necessary to aid in search. In one entry I found these details regarding Mrs. Fairfield's journey across Lake Champlain to St. Johns in 1779. It states:

Return of Loyalist & families received provisions gratis
25 July to 24 Aug 1779

1. William Fairfield male female son son daughter daughter slaves
0 1 1 4 1 1 0 arrived

2. Return of Loyalist & families received provisions free 25 Sept to 24 Oct 1779

Machiche

3. 'Repeated report' on Machiche Sept 1781; 24 Dec 1782 repeating same with one son ~~age~~ fifteen absent, due to his having joined Jessup's Rangers

4. Repeated in 1783 with one daughter, Mary, about as she being fifteen years of age, was struck off list as she was able to look after herself.

Even the classification of the Fairfields on 6 Oct 1784 in Ernesttown fails to show presence of slaves.

This, as far as I am concerned, confirms the fact that the Fairfields had no slaves in Vermont, Quebec and Upper Canada up to the death of William Senior in 1812. I have reviewed all Fairfield wills of W^m Sr in 1812 and of his son Stephen in 1821, who inherited the property in 1812, and there is no mention of slaves.

Church records of John Langhorn make no reference to Fairfield slaves, although there is mention of slaves in other families in the area, such as Rev John Stewart, Samuel Sherwood and others.

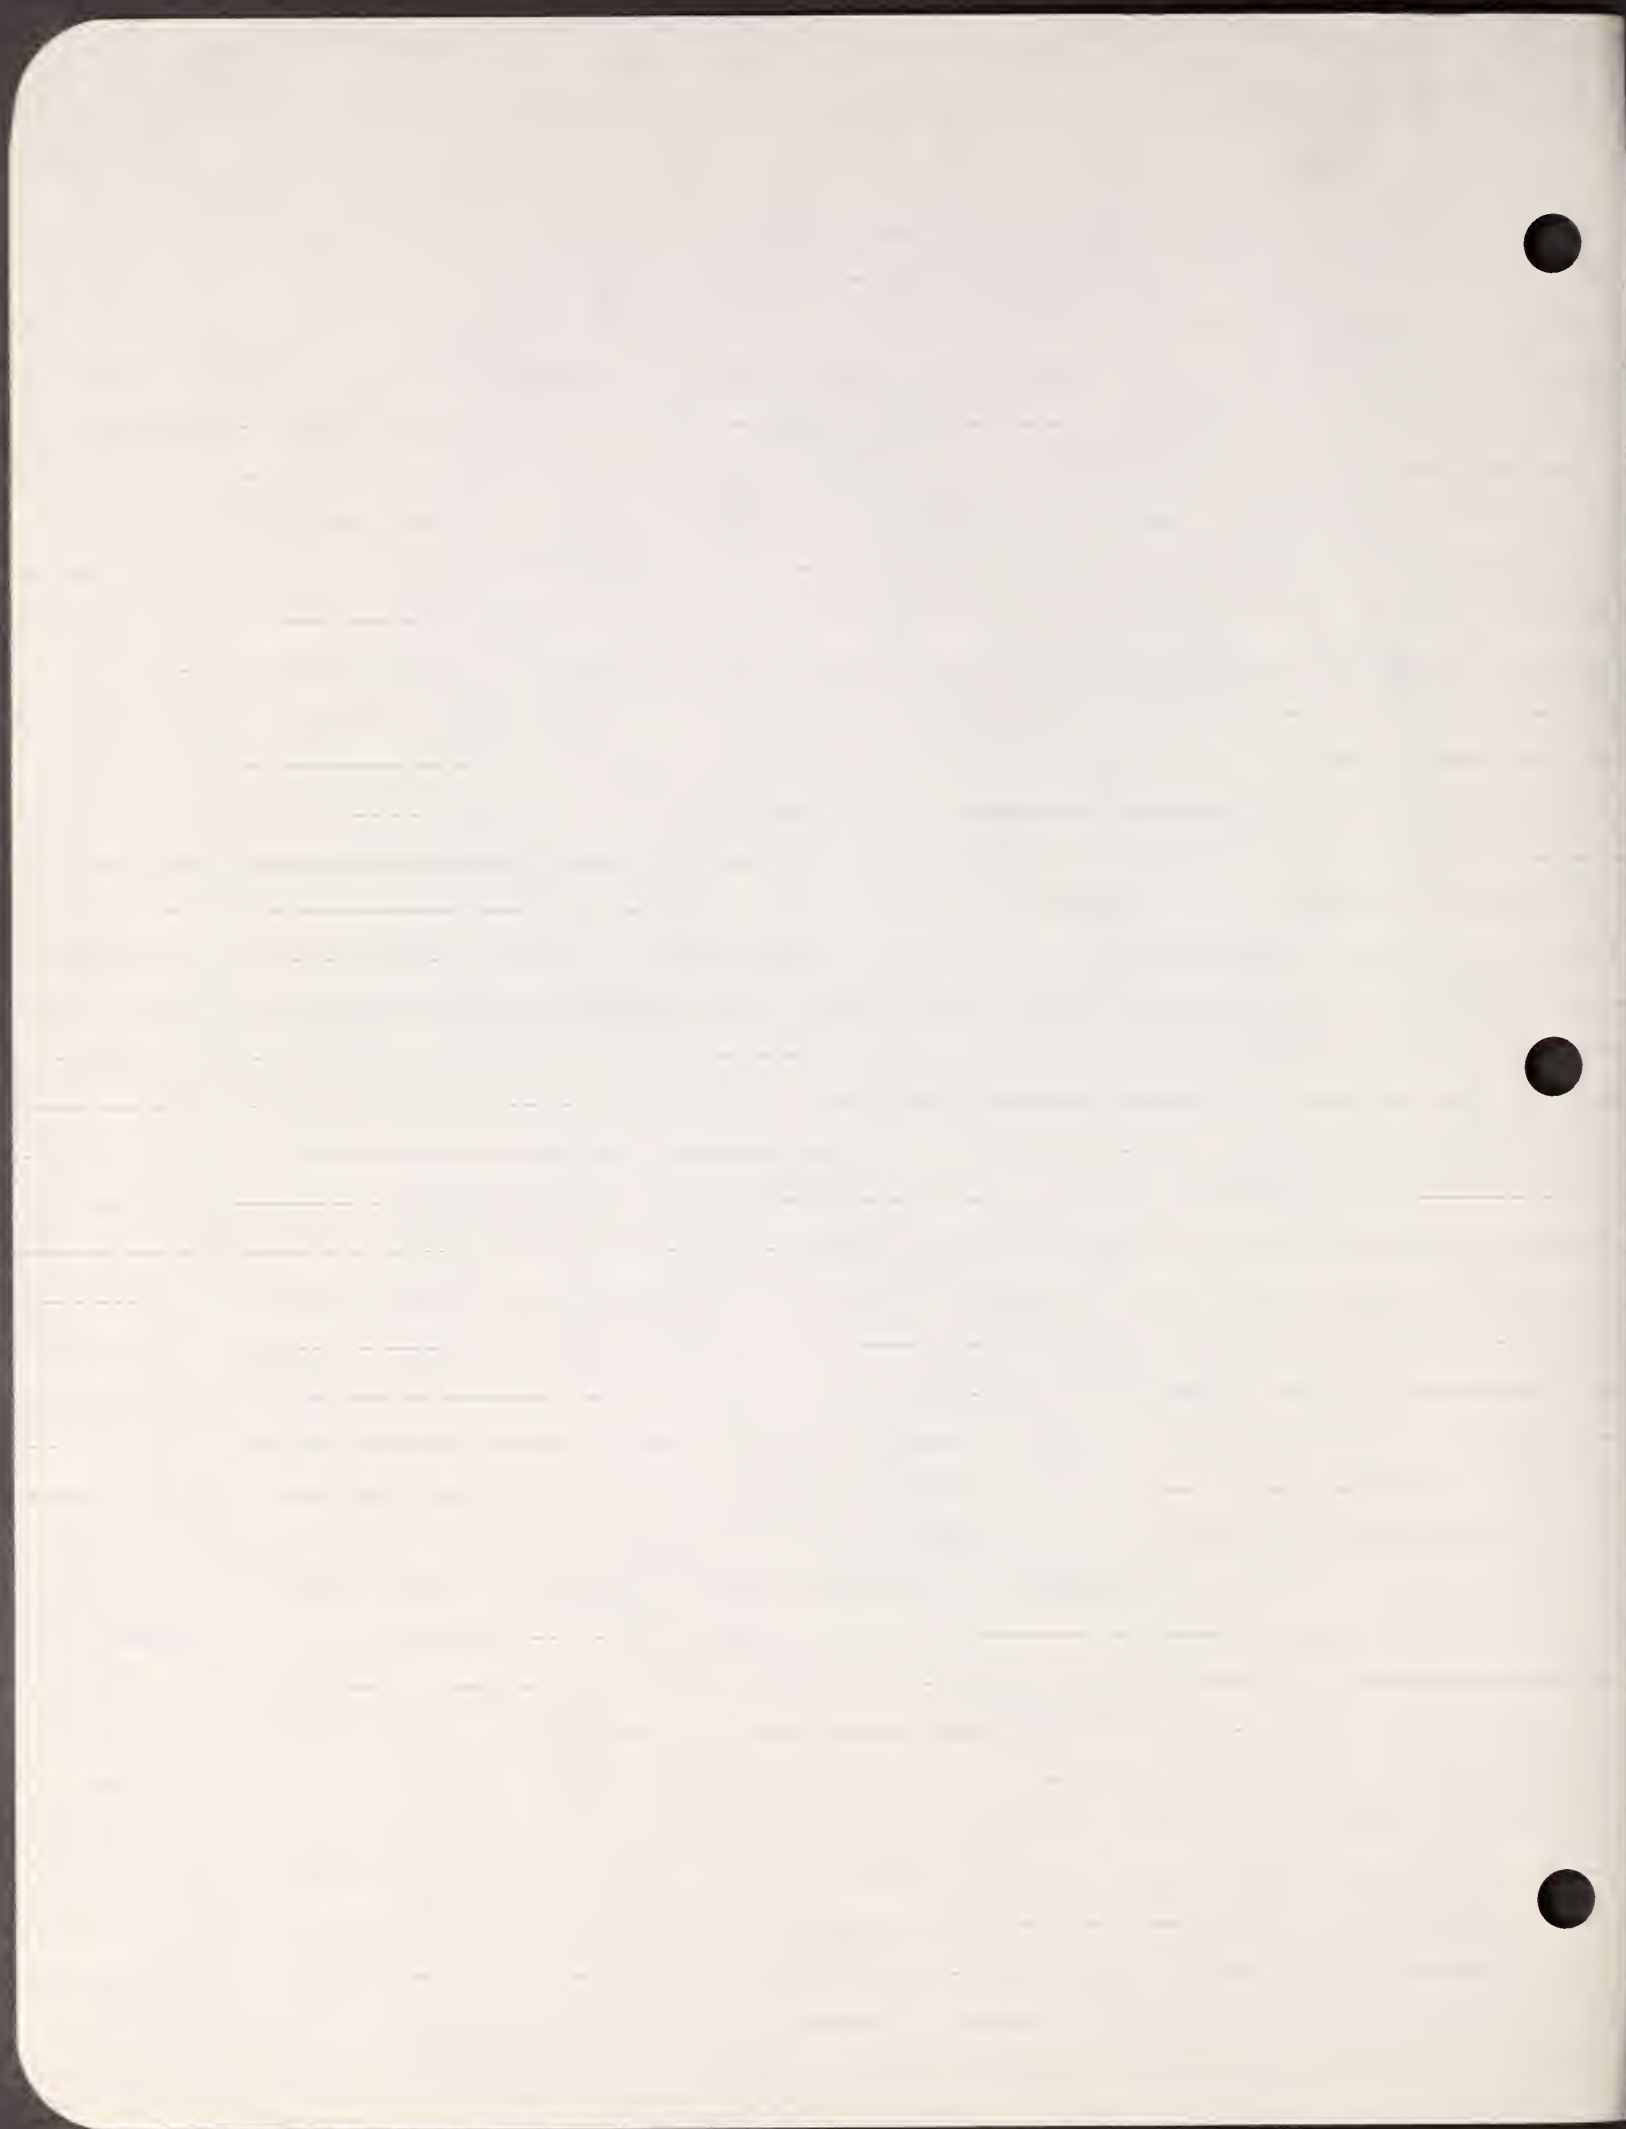

In other words I can state that there are no documentary records of Fairfield slaves.

Different members of the family stated that the slaves were buried in the garden back of the house. I made a point of exploring the area without finding any evidence. In fact in many areas the flat bed rock is exposed as the area is flat, it confirms that nowhere would there be more than a foot of top soil. To satisfy the family statement I was told that the burial must have been over the hill behind the house.

As far as I am concerned there were no Fairfield slaves as such.

Stephen Fairfield, the son who inherited the family home, married Mary Prynor. I investigated the Prynor family and discovered that Mary's grandfather Thomas Prynor did have six or seven recorded slaves. This was in the U.S. before their arrival in Canada. I have no doubt but that the family had slaves in Canada (Fredensburgh) and it would appear that Mary brought with her when she married Stephen, a little negress. If so this would confirm the only story of an old negress named Mott who walked to Toronto in the winter to warn a member of the family of danger.

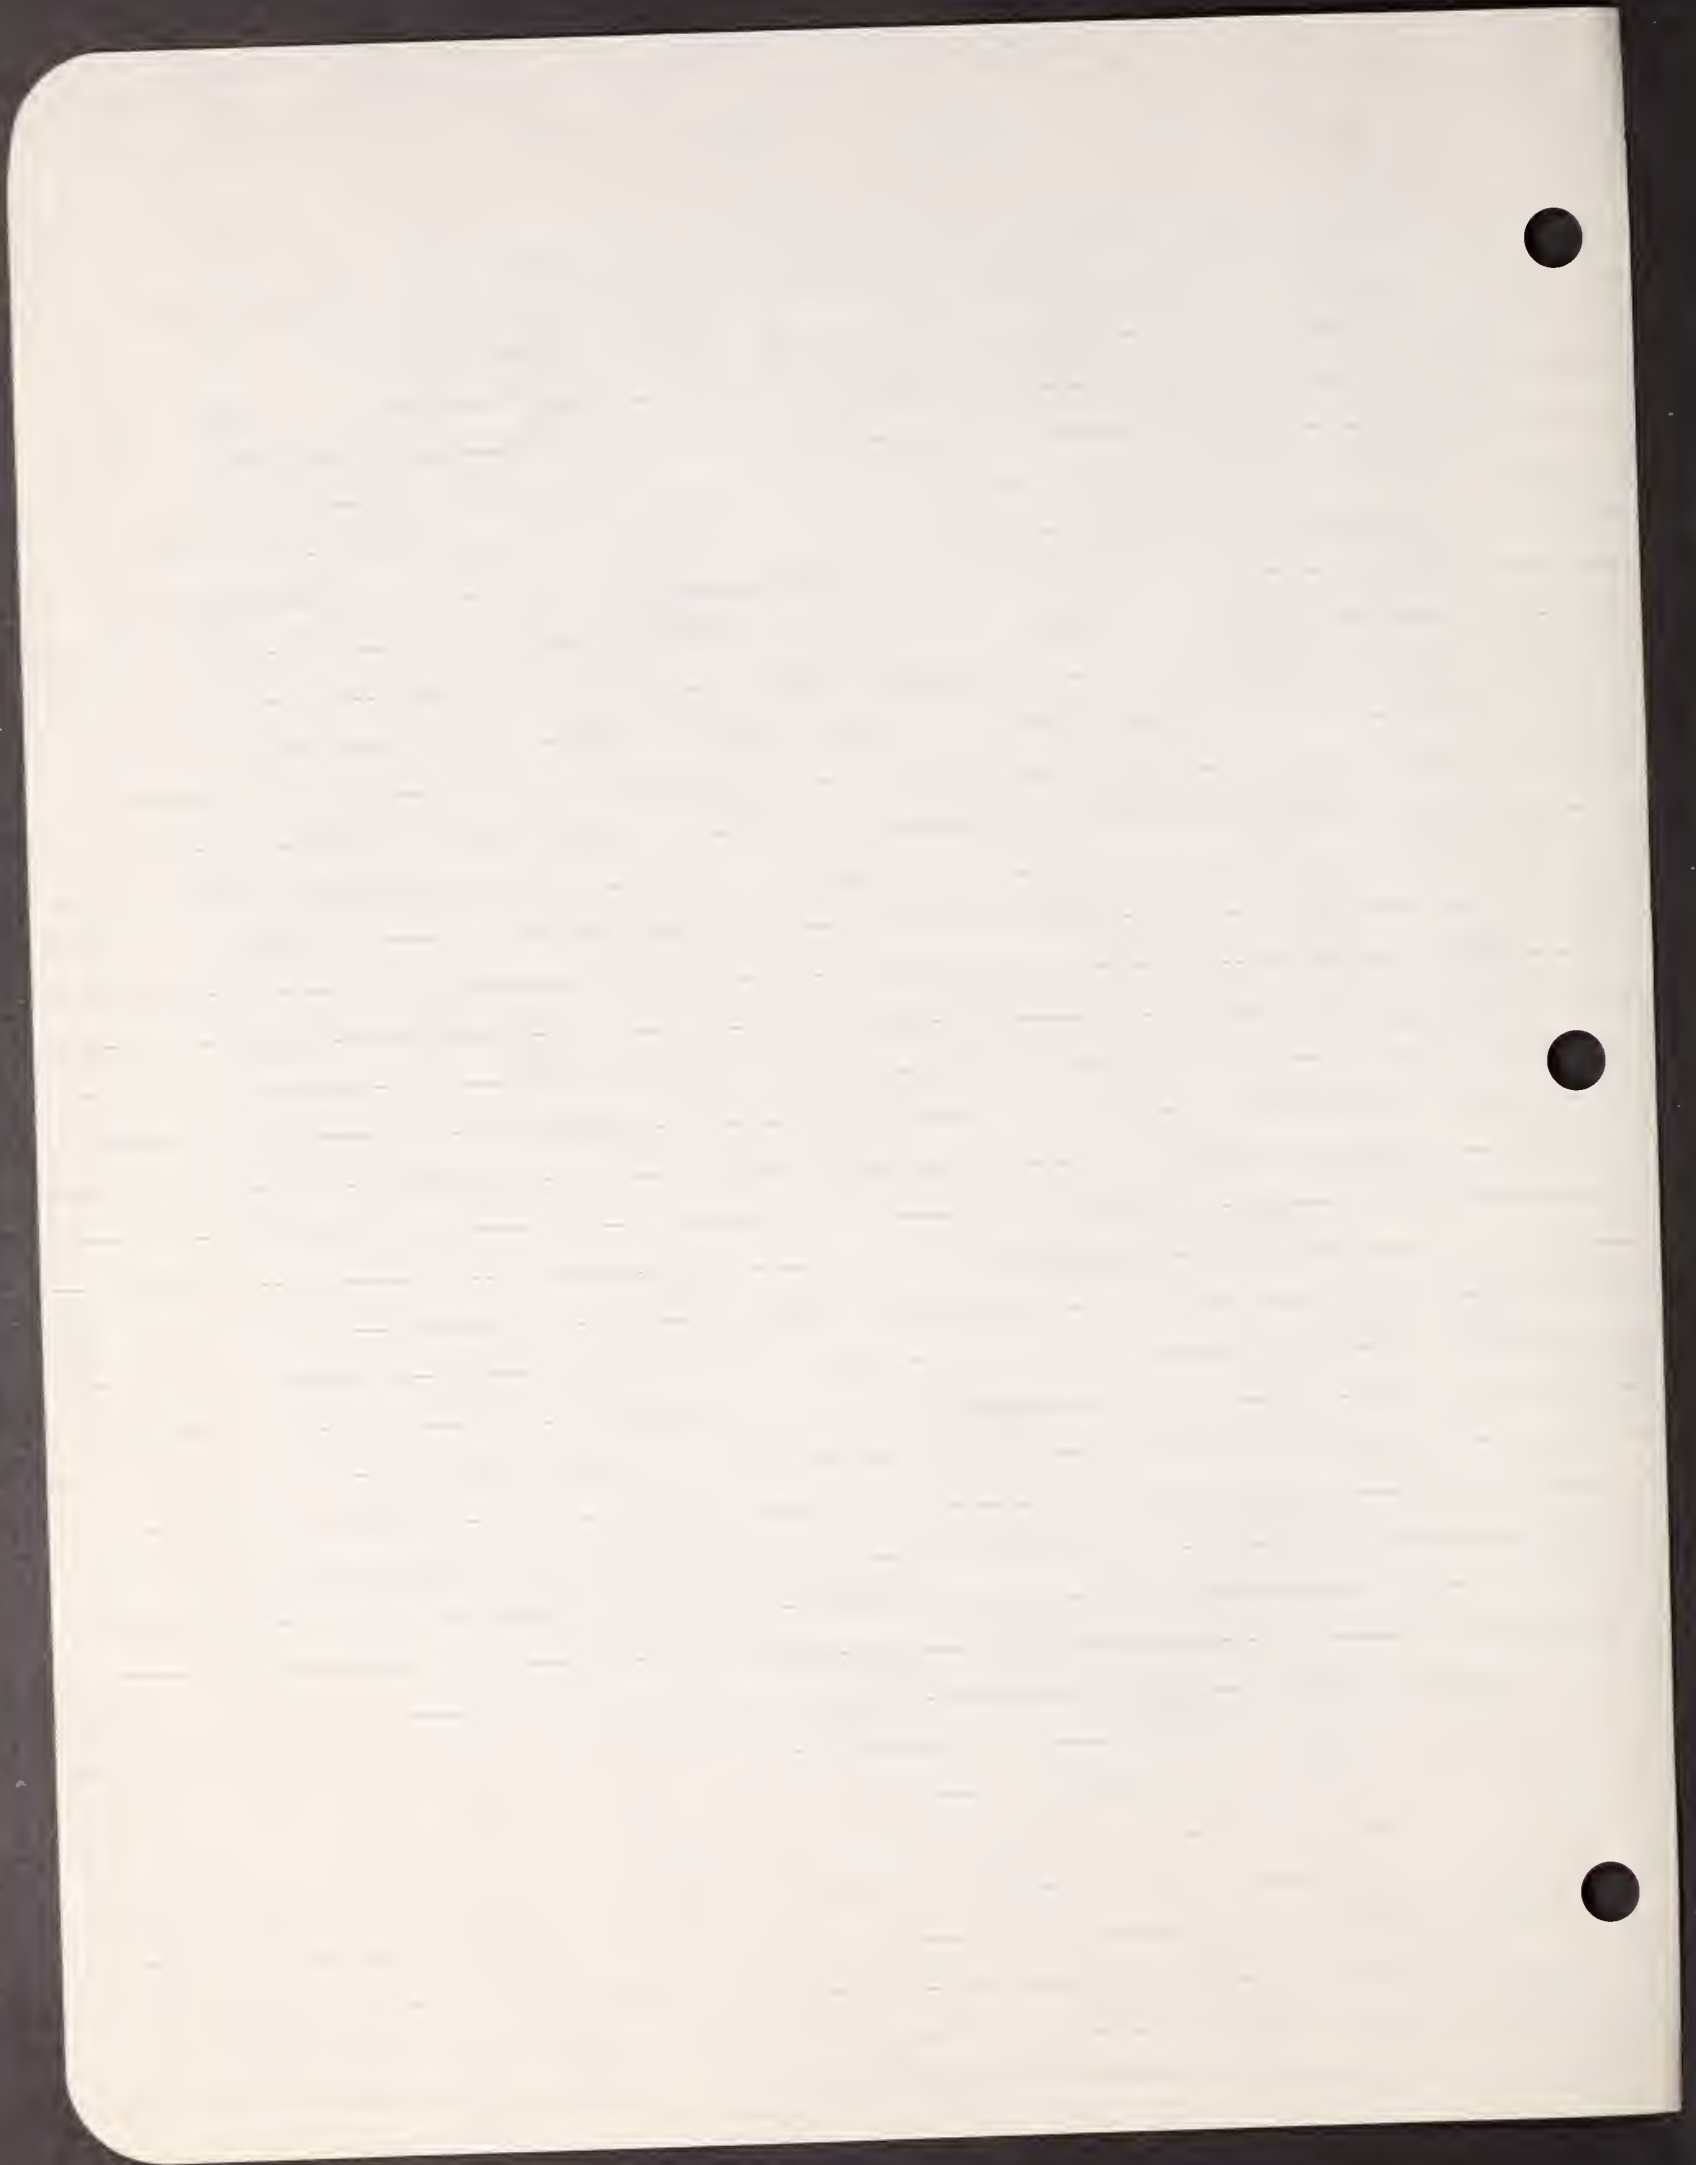

But even this does not confirm the 20 or more negro slaves who worked on the property while the family sat about enjoying sun & shade and perhaps strong drink.

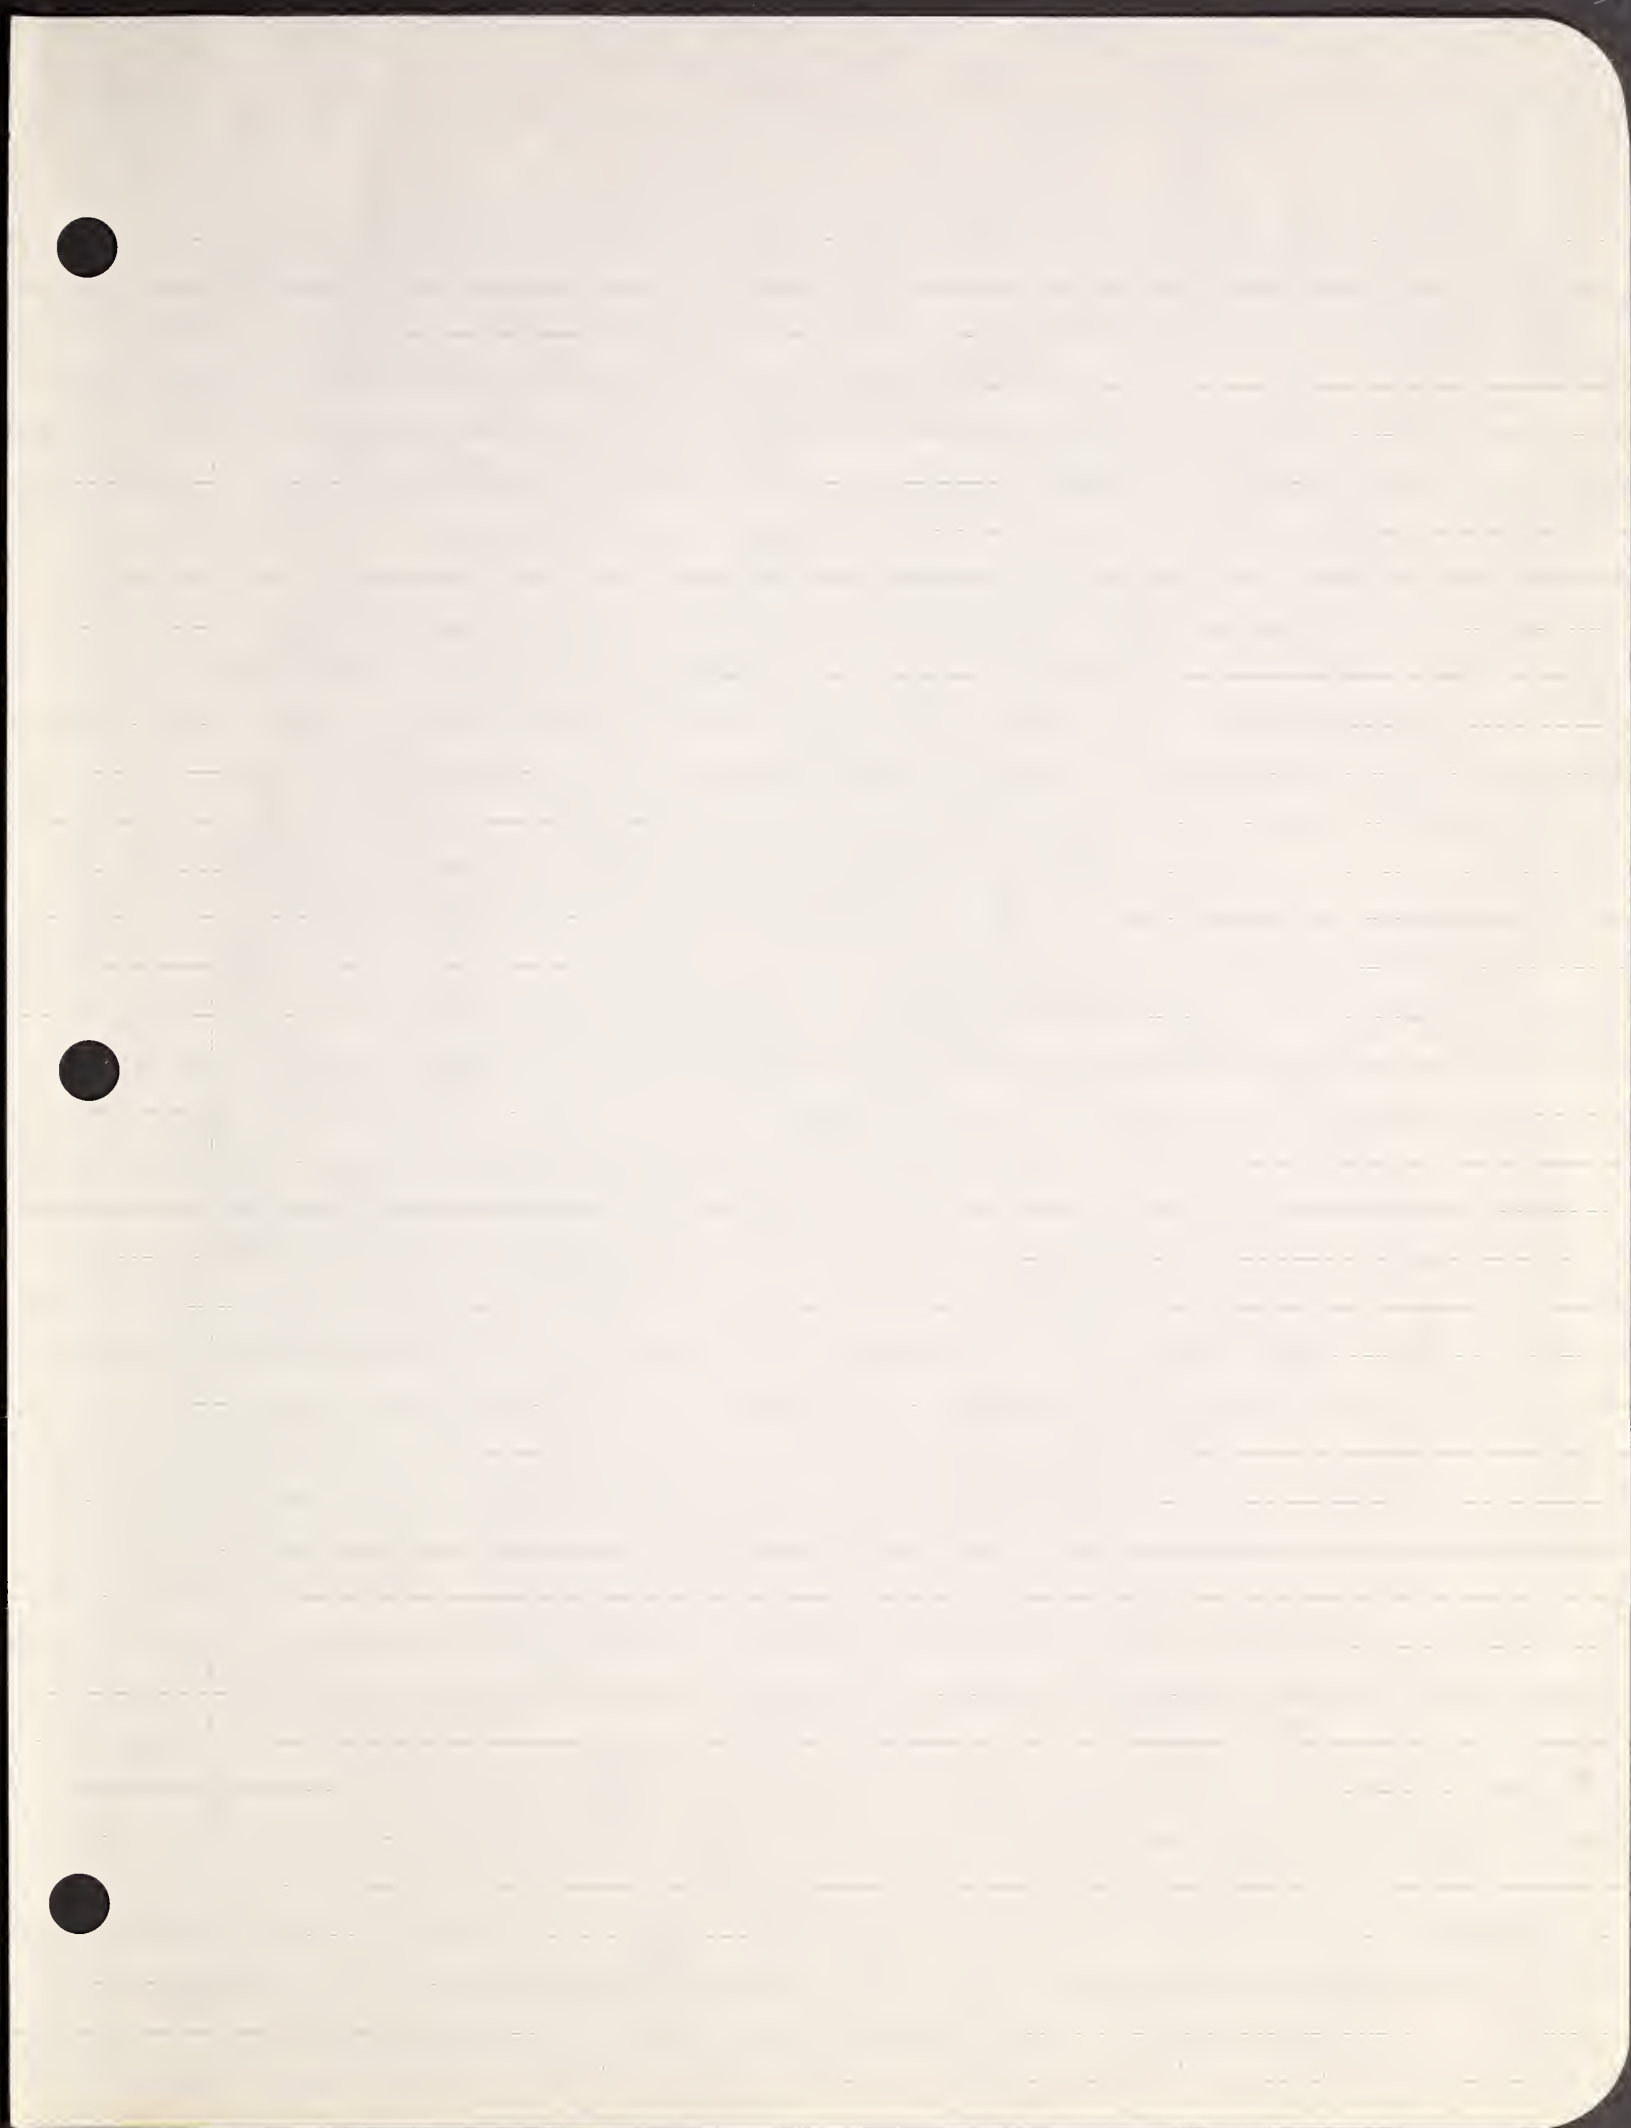

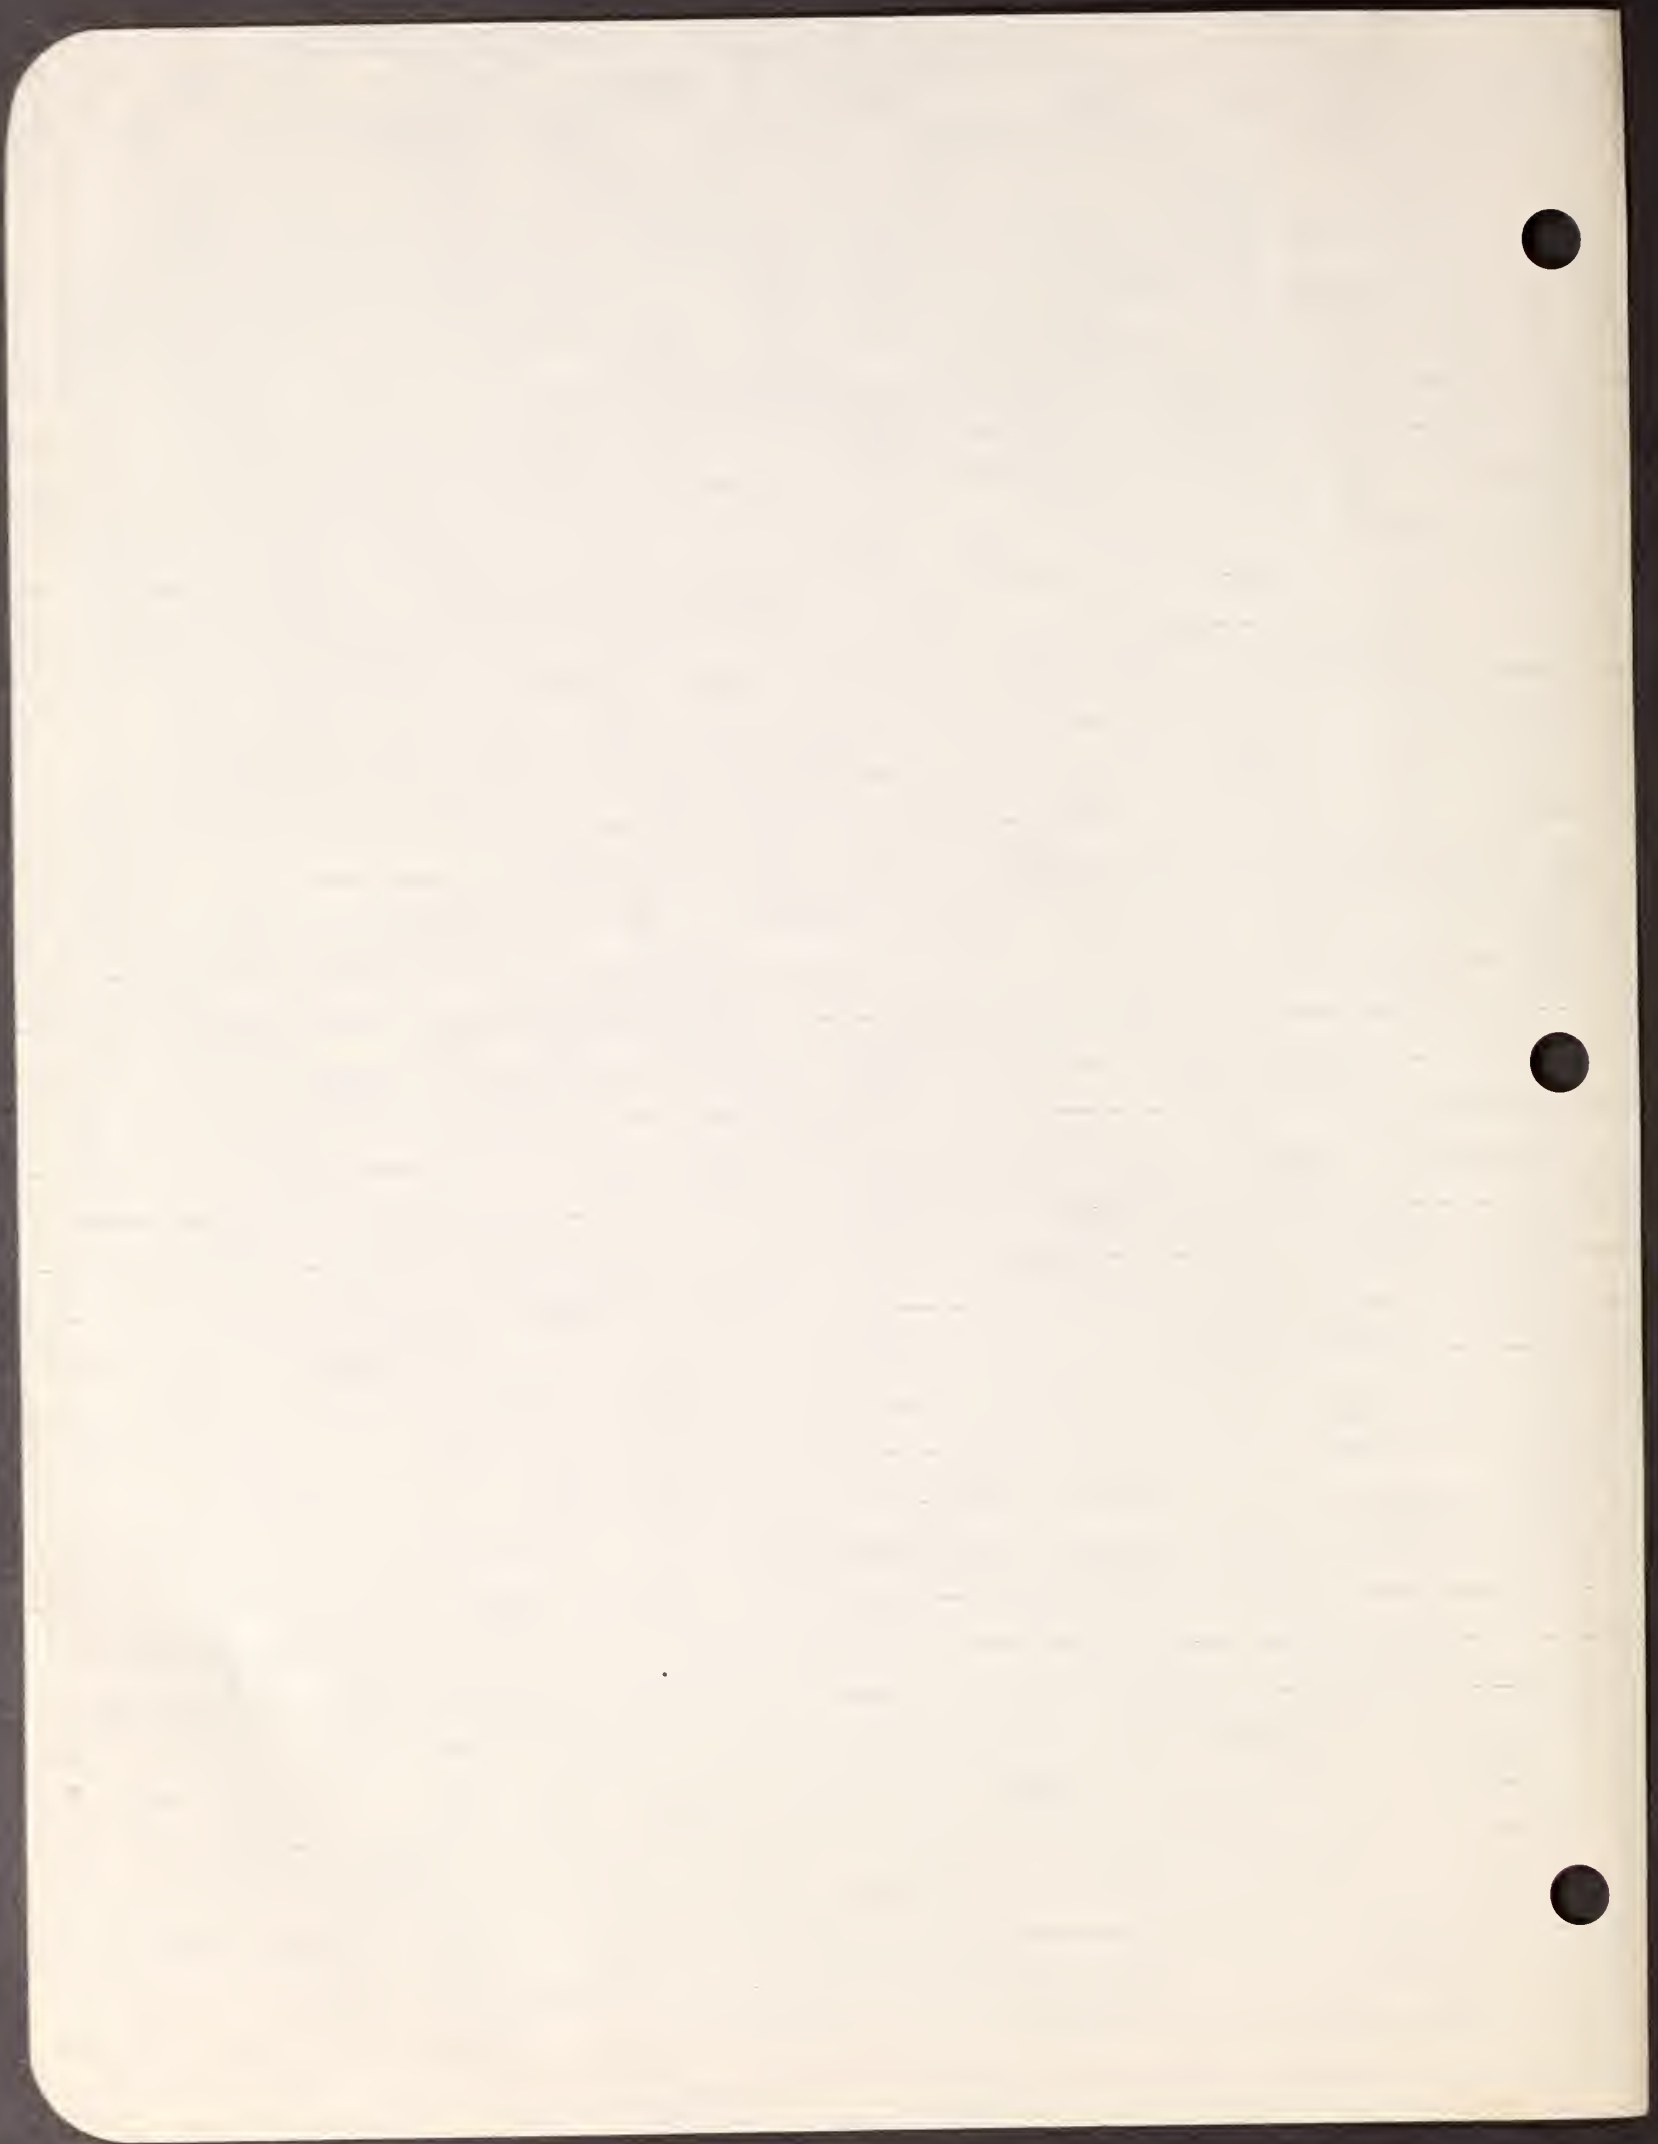

I recall being visited by a Fairfield lady who tried to convince me that a certain old building on the former Fairfield Lot 11 in Bell, built in 1820 had been a slave home. This brought to mind the many references to slaves in the Bay of Quinte area before 1800, & also recalled the decree of 1800 outlawing slavery in Upper Canada, as well as the Law enacted in England in 1820 outlawing slavery in any part of the British Empire.

While that may be true and ~~there~~ slavery may have been eradicated, we must recall that a slave freed off of a sudden would not be capable of stepping out on his. I am sure he would have preferred to remain with his former master than to face the world on his own.

I have come to the end of this epistle. I have often wondered since why I spent so much time searching out its truth. The one feature I recall is my disgust in any person white yellow brown or black who would ~~find so~~ enjoy making a slave of one of God's humans, no matter what his color, and then spending a lifetime bragging about it.
